REPAIR WORK BEGUNS ON ORCHARD LAKE ROAD FROM PONTIAC TO GRAND RIVER AVENUE. It will take several weeks before all repairs are completed. Increasing traffic within the last year has placed a great burden on the road and many pits and rough spots have developed.

Complete Paving:
The new 40-foot pavement on Grand River Avenue from Redford to Five Points was opened today. The pavement was widened by the State Highway Department. According to W. W. Lavers, district engineer for the Highway Department, the 16-foot wide highway from Redford to Seven Mile Road will be widened to forty feet in the near future.

Rumors False:
There is no contagious disease in Farmington and rumors of any such existing in the city are false, according to a statement made Wednesday by Dr. J. A. Miller, city health officer. Rumors have circulated that typhoid fever is prevalent in Farmington. Dr. Miller said, "The rumors are entirely untrue and it is regrettable that they were ever circulated."

May Chlorinate Water:
Farmington's water supply still shows traces of contamination, and unless further tests show a clearing-up, the water will probably be chlorinated.

TEN YEARS AGO (July 30, 1942)
Breaks Record:
Ray Fendt broke the amateur course record at Dob-O-Link Golf Course this week when he fired a sizeable 65 on the eighteen hole course. He shot 24 on a par 37 for the first nine and scored 31 on the par 35 second nine holes. His companion was Howard Caterman when he set the new record.

To Make Dressings:
A Red Cross workroom for the preparation of surgical dressings will open in Farmington next Tuesday, August 4, at 10 a.m. in the Farmington Town Hall. It was announced this week by Mrs. W. Allen Nelson, who will be in charge of the workroom. The Farmington workroom is one of 12 being started this week to meet the large quota assigned to Oakland County Chapter by the U. S. Army.

To Train Corps:
Training of the Medical Corps of the Farmington Civilian Defense Council will get under way Friday evening when a meeting will be held in the Farmington High School cafeteria at 8 p.m.

FIVE YEARS AGO (July 24, 1947)

EDITORIALS: It's Our Opinion

Business-Like Management . . .

of the city government is beginning to pay off for the citizens of Farmington, not just in dollars alone but in valuable services so important to a progressive community.

In the comparatively short length of time that City Management government has been in operation, tremendous progress has been made. Lack of direction and confusion has been replaced by singleness of purpose and efficiency. As The Enterprise has stated before, this is not intended as a criticism of those persons who have served the city so conscientiously in the past, but is instead a factual comparison of two forms of government.

Under the new charter organization, the city now has a business manager operating the government in a business-like manner on a full-time basis. He is easily available to both the employees of the business and the public as well. He can watch the operation of the business closely and at the same time improve its efficiency through constructive criticisms and comments from the customers - the public.

As was pointed out at the time the City Manager question was being debated, good business makes good sense whether it is government or the operation of a store. Employment of a full-time general manager has not, as some questioned, increased the tax burden. In fact, the efficiency created as a result of the new system has better than offset the cost! For example, through more efficient methods, the water department is bringing in more returns than ever before. Systematic purchasing has saved the city many dollars. Better employee relations has greatly increased the amount and quality of work being done. Parking meters have not only added a new source of revenue, but, more important, have provided more ready parking for residents.

The most important thing, however, is not the money saved, but rather the service rendered per tax dollar. Better streets, more adequate water system, improved parking, more adequate park facilities and prompt attention to service calls is the real measuring stick of progress. We have these advantages under City Management government, and with time we will have more.

There are still a few who have misgivings as to the value of business-managed government . . . but the facts can not be denied. They are there to be read and evaluated.

Hammering Home . . .

this voting business is a big job for every full-time citizen of the Farmington community . . . and we can insure a record vote on August 5 if we all work on it. What can you do? First you can resolve that you will cast your ballot on August 5. If every reader of The Enterprise who is eligible to vote goes to the polls, Farmington will have a record vote. Then you can talk it up at home, you can talk to your neighbors, to your friends, at your club and at social gatherings. The right to vote is more than a privilege . . . it's an obligation we owe to ourselves and our free Nation.

We have slipped in recent years and our prestige and pride has slipped with us. Our voting record has been a story of complacency and indifference. It can not continue if we are to remain strong. The ballot is our voice and it has been far too weak far too long.

Let's make it ring on August 5. . . the new voice of an awakened America!

Wonderful Diversion . . .

which have been so long in getting here, are probably the sentiments of Attorney General James P. McGranery.

Ever since he took over his new post, the pressure has been on to take care of that department clean-up job so urgently demanded several months ago, but at last a long-awaited diversion has come along to shift the scene and the pressure. This time it is an alleged oil cartel and, most important, it is outside of the government.

We are not questioning the necessity or importance of investigating any possible charges of illegal monopolies, but we wonder what happened to the investigation of the Attorney General's department? And we wonder, too, if they will keep the headlines blazing long enough to blot out thoughts of the past . . . they're off to a successful start, anyway.

TWO ARMIES
The Continental Army which opposed the well-equipped British and Hessians 170 years ago was a hot-ball-art of millifium, farm-farm and city ruffian, carrying rifles, pitchforks, and anything else they could lay their hands on. They ate off the land, had a bizarre assortment of uniforms, and not only during the historic victory at Valley Forge but at other times, many did not have shoes.

Now a senate report has been readied by Sen. Lyndon Johnson's preparedness committee which will shock many Americans. It will show that, in contrast to the days of the tattered Continentals, the American armed forces are the best-equipped, the lushest, the best-posted, and least combative per man in the world.

It will show that, whereas every man in the Continental Army could read and could account for himself, today few American troops carry guns. Furthermore, the Russians with less equipment, less money and less fat, have ten times the fire-power per man as the American army!

In other words, most of the Red Army is trained for combat. Most of the American army, on the other hand, is trained to be cooks, or clerks, or personnel experts, chauffeurs, mechanics, mullmen, grave-diggers, behind the relatively few men who carry the guns and do the fighting.

Illustrating the "fat" in the American army, the Johnson committee points out:

"At one point in the (Korean) campaign, the enemy enjoyed a numerical superiority in the theater of three to two. But this imbalance—unfavorable as it was—was a minor factor as contrasted to the numerical superiority of the enemy in the front line. At the point of contact—the actual area of battle—the enemy superiority was five to one. The Communists were capable of putting about four-fifths of their theater strength into the front line while the best the United Nations could do was about one-fifth."

"The American rifle company of 204 men has 29 men who perform a number of jobs other than shooting at the enemy," continues the report. "The Russian rifle company - slightly more than half this number - has only two men who do anything but shoot. The American heavy weapons company has 123 men who are not engaged in direct combat operation. Its Soviet counterpart has only nine. The American infantry battalion has 140 men engaged in communications work. The comparable Russian organization goes along on 23."

"The committee blames the traditions and luxuries of the past for bloating the armed forces with fat. NAVY AND AIR FORCE

"The committee didn't address its stinging rebuke solely to the army, but also took a few stripes at the Air Force and Navy.

"We cannot consider an organization efficient when it requires 1,600 men - plus a supply line too long to be estimated - to put 75 single-seat aircraft into the air," the report fires its barbs at the other two services. "We cannot consider a training base efficient when it requires two men to handle every three pupils. We cannot consider a ship efficiently run when it is manned by three and one-half times the number of men required to conduct a similar operation in private commerce."

"Victory," says the Johnson committee, "has usually gone not to the largest army but to the best-organized army. Military superiority has been measured not by the number of guns but by the destructive power of the guns that can be brought to bear. We have simply taken a few outsiders our manpower as the grains of sand on the beach - whose vast resources have yet to be encompassed."
