Gill Road PTA School Need Talk Scheduled Feb. 18

The Gill Road P.T.A. is planning a particularly inspirational and informative program for their next meeting on Monday evening, Feb. 18, at 8 p. m., officials of the club disclosed this week.

In observance of Founder's Day, a skit will be presented under the direction of Mrs. Gilbert Hermand and Mrs. Gilbert Murphy. Also, in this observance, the sixth grade girls will conduct a brief but impressive candle lighting ceremony.

The remainder of the meeting will be turned over to the Farmington School Board for a discussion on the topic "Your School Planning." This should be of vital interest to every taxpayer since all questions concerning the school budget will be answered fully, P.T.A. officials said. The P.T.A. cordially invites and urges every parent in Farmington is interested in the education and welfare of his children to attend. Facts about the enormous problems facing the School Board will be brought out.

It has been decided that a bake sale will be held following each P.T.A. meeting. Contributions of baked goods for sale will be accepted from anyone who wishes to donate.

Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Lease Ft. Custer Recreation Area

Fort Custer state recreation area, a 1250-acre tract between Battle Creek and Kalamazoo, will be available for public use sometime after July 1, the Conservation Department reported.

Establishment of the area was given final approval by the State Conservation Commission in January. The land is being leased by the Conservation Department from the U. S. Army.

The new recreation area will not be open to the public until sometime after July 1 because, under terms of the lease, the two-square-mile tract must be fenced off from the remainder of the military installation. Funds for this fencing, other developments and operation are included in the Department's 1957-58 fiscal year budget, but will not be available until after July 1.

ENJOYING

A day of ice skating at the skating rink at the Farmington City Park recently were a group of youngsters from the Farmington area. Another rink has also been flooded adjacent to the American Legion Home on Grand River at Lakeway. It has been reported that rinks in subdivisions throughout the Township have also been flooded.

Detroit Federation of Teen Clubs Organize Teen Groups In Suburbs

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first in a series of articles designed to acquaint Farmington area residents with the Detroit Federation of Teen Clubs and the operation of clubs within the Federation. These articles are being written by Bruce McCaleb of 37712 Glenview Drive, Farmington, who is a writer for "Teen Life" magazine, a publication made by the Farmington American Legion Post in conjunction with other local organizations and interested residents to form a club here. A public meeting is planned for Thursday, February 28, at which time heads of the Federation will discuss the setting up and operation of a local club in detail. The meeting will be held at the American Legion Hall on Grand River. All interested adults and teens are invited to attend.

Community House Memorial Fund Set Up Recently

At the annual meeting of the Farmington Area Community House Association held on January 11, it was announced that a number of contributions had been made to the F.A.C.H.A. in the name of Mr. J. P. Boyce who passed away recently. Mr. Boyce had a vital interest in seeing Farmington have a community house and had been elected to the first board of directors of the F.A.C.H.A. Friends and neighbors, knowing of his great interest, had made contributions in his memory to the Community House fund.

In gratitude, the board of directors of the F.A.C.H.A. has resolved that a memorial fund be established, it was indicated. At the same meeting, a check for $200 was presented to Don DeGroot, President of the F.A.C.H.A. by George Isley, Jr. in behalf of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Treasurer's report revealed that approximately $100 has accumulated to the credit of the F.A.C.H.A. by those responsible for such efforts as the evening at the City Club. The Day in the Country and about 700 memberships. This is an encouraging start in view of the fact that the F.A.C.H.A. is only seven months old. However, much remains to be done and the organization of the new board will appear in the near future, officials of the association said.

Area Students To Attend Youth Science Program

Two area students were among a group of outstanding Junior Class science students from Metropolitan Detroit area High Schools selected to participate in the first National Science Youth Day program held Monday, February 11. This is Thomas A. Edison's 100th birthday anniversary.

Local students attending the program are guests of the Ethyl Corporation were Daphne Curtis of 33714 Macomb, a junior at Farmington High, and James Lamb of 21110 Roosevelt, a junior at Clarenceville High.

The program, planned to be an annual event, introduced to "Young Edisons" the opportunities in science and engineering. The program was sponsored by the Thomas Alva Edison Foundation in association with Science Service. Locally, the activity was sponsored by The Engineering Society of Detroit Special Activities Committee under the chairmanship of Edwin F. Lau.

A full day was developed for the participating students. They received individual instructions to visit the engineering facilities of one of the following companies: Chrysler Corporation, Detroit Edison, Ethyl Corporation, Ford Motor Company, General Motors Corporation, Michigan Bell Telephone Company, and Wyanotte Chemicals. After the tours, the companies transported each group to Greenfield Village for lunch at Lovett Hall where they were welcomed by William Clay Ford, Vice President of Ford Motor Company and a member of the National Edison Birthday Committee. One of the highlights of the program at Greenfield Village was a visit to Edison's laboratory, and demonstrations of several of his early inventions including the first phonograph.

The program was concluded by a talk by Dr. Henry Gombosi, Assistant Director, Michigan Memorial Phoenix Project, University of Michigan, on "Future Tom Edisons."

The Top Hat teen club in Garden City was the first organized in Detroit, but several are located in neighboring suburbs. The reason for this is that Detroit laws prohibit teens of two different age groups (13-15 and 17-20) from mixing and secondly because of laws of curfew.

Many problems confronted the new Federation. For instance, the larger clubs could not outbid the smaller clubs for top talent, the larger clubs would obviously make more money which they could enlarge with.

The Federation finally came up with the answer to these and many other questions. Instead of bidding for bands and thereby drawing them away from the smaller clubs, the Federation worked out an arrangement whereby the bands in the circuit are rotated, each playing at a different club every week, as to distribute the talent.

The officers of the Federation are: Lowell B. Worley, president and four: Kerry A. Hatter, vice-president; Phyllis Troeder, director of talent; Beverly Welch, secretary; Roy Traub, Norbert Donald, Dorothy Meyers, Wilson Taylor, and William Wettlaufer, who are in charge of starting new clubs.

There are now sixteen teen clubs in operation, with six more to open in the next two months. A teen club formed in the Federation has seldom had to close. The reason for the few which have closed has usually been lack of adult participation.

The Federation is a non-profit organization which is chartered by The Michigan Corporation of Securities Commission.

Lesson On Health, First Aid Given

The Farmington-Eight Mile Home Demonstration Group sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service met February 5 with a lesson on "Health and First Aid for Farming."

Nine regular members and two new members, Mrs. John Martin and Mrs. Mary Crider, attended. First aid demonstration of artificial respiration was demonstrated by Mrs. William Brock, the victim, and Mrs. R. Van Camp, the rescuer. Different types of bandages were shown by leaders and pamphlets with "First Aid for Poisons Swallowed" distributed.

Plans were made for the monthly visit to the group's adopted ward at Northville State Hospital on Tuesday, February 12, for the purpose of giving a Valentine Party.

The next meeting of the group will be held on March 19. The lesson topic will be Clothing and Textiles.

Minstrel Show Rehearsals Start

Rehearsals were begun last week by the Farmington Junior Chamber of Commerce for presentation of their annual minstrel show "Fine and Dandy."

Bob Brown, director of the show, stated that a fine array of talent turned out for the first rehearsal and felt that they could be combined to provide one of the best shows yet to be given in the history of "Fine and Dandy" minstrel show presentations. The show will be presented two nights, March 22 and 23, this year instead of only one night which has been the case in past years. The show will be presented both nights at the Junior High auditorium on Thomas Street.

Many of last year's star performers will be seen in new acts this year, Brown said. There will also be some new outstanding performers never before seen on the "Fine and Dandy" stage.
