Zoning

avoid a complete breakdown of Middlebelt Road.
Following the reading of a letter from the Planning Committee, recommending approval of the rezoning, Harvey Freeman, former secretary of the Committee, was asked to comment. Freeman stated that three members of the five-man committee were present at the meeting when the vote was taken, with two in favor and one against. Freeman added that this was the lone negative vote.
Officials of the Zoning Board unanimously recommended rejection of the proposal on the grounds that the boundary descriptions were inadequate and that there was no definition on footage of proposed greenbelt along the north side of the property.

Receives Army Commission

DONALD W. STEPHEN.
Donald Warner Stephen of 32435 Cloverdale was one of 65 University of Michigan ROTC cadets receiving commissions into the Armed Forces on February 2 in a program conducted at Hill Auditorium.
Stephen, who graduated from U. M. on January 28, was commissioned into the Army Ordnance Corps and will report for duty at the Aberdeen Proving Grounds in Maryland on February 28. He graduated from Farmington High in 1932 and attended the U. of M. on a scholarship.
His wife Julann will continue her studies at the University of Michigan and will graduate in June.
Two weeks ago Saturday, Donald was honored at an open house and buffet supper at the home of his parents.

Grade School

The school district contributes approximately $2,000 to aid in the establishment of a South Oakland Child Guidance Clinic which was withheld at the request of Superintendent O. E. Dunclek. He stated that he felt that no action should be taken until it can be determined what money will be available for such contributions from the new school budget yet to be prepared.
The Board was informed that plans for three new subdivisions in the Township have now been approved by the Township Planning Committee and will be forwarded to the Township Board for final approval. Under a new policy, the School Board is now notified of all proposed new subdivision developments in the District in order that they may better plan for the location of new schools.
A request from the American Association of University Women asking that costs for use of the high school gymnasium be waived for a performance by the Plymouth Symphony on April 28 was granted.
In other action the Board accepted the resignation of one teacher and approved the appointment of two others. Authorization was also given for the sending of one school principal to a meeting of the department of elementary school principals at the expense of the School District and the awarding of one educational development diploma to Harold Kneevess.

Michigan State U. To Co-Operate In Summer Running Of Camp Oakland

Michigan State University will cooperate with the Juvenile Division of the Oakland County Probate Court in the operation this summer of the Camp Oakland program.
The unique project with the M.S.U. College of Education will be announced last week by Probate Judge Arthur E. Woodcock. This co-sponsorship arrangement between Michigan State and the Juvenile Division will provide for greater camp supervision and supervision points out James Hunt, director of the juvenile division.
Michigan State will teach four graduate courses for teachers during the eight-week camp program, with the teachers also serving as camp counselors. Interested area teachers will be able to earn a maximum of nine hours credit and also receive free tuition, room and board, plus a small payment.
"There will be openings for 20 teachers and counselors in this new, unique project and we want interested men and women to act quickly," explains William J. Matuz, director for the camp. Applications should be sent to Director Matuz, Camp Oakland, 939 E. Drainer Road, Oxford, Michigan. The camp staff will also include a nurse, a nurse and several specialists—this group not part of the MSU project.

time schedules, an organized procedure has been established. It is anticipated that the improvements in the Detroit system will take between a year and a half and two years to complete. The Supervisor added that every effort will be made to speed the engineering and financing of the local facilities.
Conferees with officials of the Southeast Oakland County Water Authority, the Inter-County Advisory Committee and the State Health Department have also been planned within the next two weeks in an effort to reach a solution to the water problems. Dr. S. A. Broadman, Township Health Officer and Dr. Joseph Gadway, former Township Health Officer, have both warned of the serious health hazard which exists as a result of the lack of water in the "dry area." Many of the estimated 3,000 persons who live in the southern and eastern section of the Township are required to haul water since practically all of the shallow wells in the area have been declared unsafe.

Report Progress On New H.S. Unit

Charenceville school officials announced this week that work is progressing according to schedule on the new high school building being constructed on the west side of Middlebelt Road opposite the present high school.
Les Schmidt, Superintendent, reported that the Board at its regular meeting Thursday evening, will consider a resolution outlining the conditions for an agreement between the School District and the City of Livonia concerning the sewer connection for the new school. The Board will also discuss a minor alteration in the building plan as proposed by the architect.
In the meantime, work is continuing on the construction of both interior and exterior walls for the new building. Officials stated that construction schedules call for completion of the project by the opening of school in September of 1957.

League Forms Speakers' Panel

The subcommittee on public relations of the Temporary Organization of Subdivision Associations announced this week that a panel has been formed to provide speakers to subdivision groups desiring more information on the proposed League.
Associations who desire such speakers for general membership meetings or Board of Directors meetings are urged to contact B. Wilcox, 2845 Hawberry Road, GR 4-8133. The subcommittee is also in the process of organizing three liaison committees to provide easy communication channels for the answering of questions about the proposed League and the progress of the temporary organization. The chairmen of these three committees are asking the presidents of subdivision associations to designate someone to act as liaison by joining a committee.
The plan for the Liaison Committees is as follows: The presidents of Franklin Knolls, Glen Acres, Italy Hill, Farmwood and Woodbrook will be asked to designate a member for the North Group; of Greenacres, Forest Hills, Oak Farm Colony, Rosemont in Stambrook, Stone Acres and Woodbine, for the South Group; of Pasadena Park, Ramble Hills, Ridgewood, Schroder Farms, Springdale and Woodcroft, for the West Group.
Since there have been many requests for copies of the talks given at the initial meeting of the representatives on January 7, they are being reproduced and a copy will be mailed this week to each association in the Temporary Organization.

Accident

Baker suffered lacerations about his head and face, but no other injuries and Byrne a bruised left shoulder. Both were taken to Mt. Carmel Hospital for treatment.
William R. Robinson of Detroit, proceeding to his home in Farmington on boulevard Eight Mile Road early Friday morning, crashed into a utility pole after running the red light at the Eight Mile U.S. 16 intersection. He suffered lacerations about the face and internal injuries in the crash.
Young Michael Berry, 10, of 22-450 Hayes Street, Farmington, was injured Monday afternoon shortly before 5 o'clock when he was struck by a car on Nine Mile Road at Farmington. He was taken to Redford Receiving Hospital with lacerations and head injuries.

Livonia GI Completes Basic Combat Training

Army Pvt. James E. Ruff, son of Mrs. Rhea Brown, 32639 Greenland Court, Livonia, completed eight weeks of basic combat training with the 9th Infantry Division at Fort Carson, Colo., last month.
Ruff is a former student at Henry Ford Community College and a former employe of Mohawk Lumber & Supply Company in Detroit.
If you must use carbon tetrachloride for cleaning be sure there is adequate ventilation, warns the Institute for Safer Living. Choose a place that isn't excessively humid and open the windows wide while you are using this solvent.

KITCHEN SAFETY

Wipe up those kitchen spills immediately, warns the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company. A safe kitchen is a clean kitchen. Anything spilled on the floor is a definite hazard, especially to an older person who is more likely to be seriously injured by a fall.

SURE FIRE
TAINT SO---
There's no such thing as sure fire. When yuh pull the trigger yuh aint positive—yer jest hooin' like crazy. Most everything is a gamble — but here's something you can't lose on—some oven-ready turkeys—any size yuh want—fer jest 39c a lb. Here's another item that aint gonna hurther budget none if you can get out to it—and that's the rib end of a pork loin roast fer 29c a lb. It's almost sure fire when you buy beef graded U.S. choice yer gonna be satisfied more times than not—and that's the kind of beef we handle. This weekend we'll have some choice round steak fer 79c a lb. Then we'll have some boneless rolled hump roasts fer 89c a lb. That's jest about as tasty a roast as yuh can get if you cook it slow—and in the oven. That's what we like—the stuff yuh can toss in the oven with the potatoes and carrots and vegit. Course if you'd rather we will have some nice choice pot roasts of beef fer 49c a lb. This Tuesday as we write this the weather is winter agin and when winters here we think 'nother' is gooder than a bowl of fresh oyster stew—or some of 'em fried. These oysters are fresh and big—if yuh wanna take our word fer it—they're the best yet. Fer all you gals with automatic washers we have a 25 lb bucket of Spin, made by the Cimalene people, what we're gonna sell fer $5.39. If you'd like a sample of it before you buy all yuh gotta do is stop in and ask fer it—aint we good to you? ? ?

The Handyman's NOTEBOOK
By: BAYARD TUPPER
What's the most important rule to adopt before starting to finish your basement? Dry walls? Plenty of light? Convenient plumbing and wiring?
No, as important as they are, I wouldn't put these at the top of the "must's" list. The most important rule of all, to my mind, is to have a long range plan. By that I mean a simple plan which you can sketch yourself, and which will guide you right from the start.
Avoid the common falling of simply putting a work bench here and a storage cabinet there, and then reference to an overall plan. Extra living, recreation or work space seldom turns out to be very convenient or attractive that way.
First of all you should measure your basement and draw a floor plan showing all immovable objects, including doorways, stairs and windows. Then sketch in floor plans of the rooms that will best suit your family's needs. It doesn't matter if some of these additions may not be made for quite a while. With a long range plan, you can make your own cabinets, for instance, don't get built in some spot where they will later have to be ripped out; or that an automatic washer doesn't get hooked up in a place that would have been intended for another purpose.
How can you determine these things and plan for the years ahead? I'll make a few suggestions about that in my next column.
By the way, we have just the thing to seal up those basement walls and keep them watertight for years. It's called DIKE, and believe it or not, it works. It's a mixture of Peppercorn Cement Paint or Masonry Glue. Then apply a coat of Peppercorn Cement Paint or Masonry Glue. Finish and see how the basement starts to look up. Let's do it now while the weatherman insists that we stay inside.
