Mythology Is Topic Sunday The idea that mythology may be the most significant and universal language known will be explored Sunday, May 31, by Robert Miles Eddy in his sermon at the 10 a.m. service of the Universalist - Unitarian Church of Farmington. The sermon will be titled "Unspeakable Truth." Mr. Eddy said most moderns have come to accept mysticism, the dance and architecture of non-verbal languages "but usually we listen to mythology as though we were listening to logical discourses." "But I've listened to the language of myth in the various scriptures, rather than to the literal meaning of the words in which the myth is clothed, we could perhaps discover profound truths." Regular discussion groups will be in session at 11 a.m. with church school from 10 to 12 noon.

Present Flag To Church of Shepherd King The Lutheran Church of the Sheppard Kings, 6300 W. Maple in Birmingham, held a mission, entitled "Our Mission - The World" on May 17. Pastor, Paul Hearsh, who spent 12 years as a missionary in Japan, was the speaker. Many articles of the orient along with a flag collection from all lands were on display. Pastor A. Karl Boehmke was presented with a flag that had been flown over the nation's capitol.

KAY SULLIVAN, daughter of the Sheppards, 6300 W. Maple in Birmingham, a student at O. E. Dunckel Junior High School, had written Congressman William Bromfield in January of this year requesting a flag which had been flown over the Washington, D.C. Capitol Building. In a matter of days, Congressman Bromfield's letter saying he would be happy to comply with her request. Labs in February, the flag, which had been flown over the Capitol February 4, arrived at the church along with a certificate to be presented in behalf of Congressman Bromfield. The Rev. Arthur Yoss of 24595 Glen Orchard in Farmington is the assistant pastor at the Lutheran Church of the Sheppard Kings. Many of the church parishioners make their home in Farmington.

Buy Old Farm As Site for New Church Members of the 111-year-old Universalist - Unitarian Church of Farmington have voted to purchase a century farmhouse located on a wooded site with an eye toward building a new church home there in the future. The decision was made Sunday, May 24, to buy five acres of land at Grand River and Halsted Road from Mr. and Mrs. Harley Gibson, long associated with the church. The land has been in the Gibson family for more than a hundred years. The church's present home, located at Warner and Thon in Farmington, is one of the oldest church buildings in this part of Michigan. Minister Robert M. Eddy said the new was under consideration because the congregation, and especially the church school, is outgrowing present facilities. At present, however, there are no definite plans to build on the Gibson site. Heading the church's congregation in 1954-55 will be Wade Brown of Farmington, elected moderator at a recent business meeting. Also elected at that time were trustees Adlai Mingo of Farmington and Donald Friederichs and Homer Fowler of Livonia. They will serve with three trustees elected last year, Dr. Alden Shaw of Hills Northville, Henry Heuser of Livonia and Miss Marion Kellogg of Highland Park.
