TAKE PURITANS INTO CAMP EASILY

Farmington Downs City Team by a 6 to 3 Score

Farmington annexed their annual game with the Puritans of Burnham & Stoepels' of Detroit Saturday afternoon, when they downed the invaders by a score of 6 to 3.

The locals took the lead in the first inning when after the first two men had died, Pierce walked and stole, and scored when Maas dropped the ball into the barnyard in deep center field for three sacks.

There was nothing stirring in the second inning, but in the third the home boys broke loose again and marked up a pair of counters when Stotemberner and Casey numbered home on Pierce's slash to center.

In the meanwhile the Detroit boys were taking no liberties with Johnson's slants and were set down unless up to the fifth inning, in which period they clattered over with a couple of tallies on two errors by the home infield.

Farmington grabbed off a run in each of the fifth, sixth and eighth innings and the Puritans managed to earn one in the eighth, and the game ended 6 to 3, with the big town performers on the small end.

The game was featured by a beautiful catch of a hard hit line drive by Wilber, the veteran right fielder, who also fattened his batting average with two healthy clouts. Johnson not only pitched a nice game, but helped out the offensive tactics with three solid singles.

Farmington will cross bats with the Michigan Central team of Detroit this week Saturday and a good time is sure to be the result. Come down and lend your moral support even if it is too hot for physical effort, the players will attend to that.

Farmington Lots Selling

H. S. Vail, manager of the F. L. Warner Grand River avenue subdivision, informs the Enterprise that lots have been sold as follows: Amos Otis, lots 17 and 31; Frank L. Maas, lot 3; Wm. Maas, lot 4; Chas. Thenn, acre lots 47 to 54 inclusive; W. Davis, acre lots 44-45-46; John Folsola, lots 33-34; Miss Maude Kent, lot 29; Mrs. G. B. Reading, lot 30, and four acre tracts to Mr. McMeans of Detroit, who will build a bungalow. Messrs. Otis, Folsolas and Governor Warner will also build at once on Maple Grove avenue.

In addition Mr. Vail tells us that a move is on foot to secure the location here of an industry from Owosso that will manufacture an automatic extension table. The table is here now and on exhibition at Owen House. A representative of the concern will be here in a few days to show the table to the people.

Sudden Death of James Young

On Monday afternoon the body of James Young, who was found dead in his room in Detroit Saturday night, was buried in Oakwood cemetery.

The Detroit papers first had it that poison was found near the body and intimated that the deceased had taken his own life, but a post-mortem failed to reveal any poison in the stomach and it is believed that he died from natural causes.

The deceased was a brother of Harry Young of Farmington and had recently been employed in Detroit.

To Farmington for a Good Job

John Henderson and Clara Boynton, both of Detroit, were united in marriage by Justice of the Peace William I. Ely last Saturday night. The ceremony took place in the parlor of the Grace House. Although they were quietly married away from their Detroit friends, some of the Farmington boys appropriately showered them with rice before their return to the city.

Two Players Crippled

The Senior base ball team suffered their first defeat this season at the hands of the pupils of the Polish seminary at the seminary grounds last Friday afternoon. The game was running with an even score up until almost the close of the game when two of the Farmington players got knocked out. Both John Clark and Earl Finch were running for a fly ball and collided with such force that it was some time before they regained their equilibrium. Mr. Finch was hit in the side and on the knee. He was obliged to wear a splint on his leg for a day, and at first it was thought that his knee cap was cracked.

Buried in Oakwood

Mrs. Eva Sadler was overcome by the heat in one of the city parks in Detroit last Saturday afternoon and suddenly expired.

The funeral was held in the M. E. church in Farmington on Monday, the services being conducted by Rev. Lee. The body was laid to rest in Oakwood cemetery at Farmington, the funeral arrangements being in charge of R. B. Northrop, the Redford undertaker, who used the fine electric hearse from Grand Lawn cemetery.

Mrs. Sadler was formerly Miss Eva Botstorf of Farmington where she was well known and highly respected by a large number of friends.

New Resort at Walled Lake

The beauties of Walled Lake for a summer home or for outing purposes have attracted many people to its shores and it is fast becoming a very popular resort.

The latest thing in its growth and improvement is the purchase of the Randall Chapman farm by Herman Czenkusch, a business man of Detroit, who is making some marked changes in the place with a view of founding a suitable place for the use of picnic parties by Sunday-schools, fraternal organizations and other societies as well as for private parties of all kinds.

The fine grove is especially adapted for such purposes and a supply of boats will always be in readiness at a very reasonable charge for the use of the public. The fishing at Walled Lake is better than almost any other place in this vicinity and fishing tackle and bait can be had at a nominal charge.

Mr. Czenkusch has also platted building lots along the lake front which will be for sale to those who desire a summer home in this beautiful spot.

Plats and prices can be had of Randall Chapman on the place or by application in person or by mail to Herman Czenkusch, 918 Gratiot avenue, Detroit.

Building Sidewalks

The village of Farmington has commenced work on the walks to be built this summer. Cinders are being drawn for the walk that will extend east from Will Irish's to the Eisenlord property. A sidewalk will be built from Henry Lee's harness shop and will continue west for some distance and for this walk considerable grading will be required between Mr. Lee's and F. M. Warner's office.

EIGHTH GRADE GRAD. EXERCISES

Ten Graduates Take Part Before a Large Crowd

The eighth grade exercises held in the town hall Tuesday evening were very successful in every way.

The following are members of this class: Carl Goers, Clark Parrish, Howard Eisenlord, Harold Steele, Lettie S-rague, Martha Stamaun, Helen Warner, Ida Westfall, Minnie Meyers, Harley Schroeder.

The hall was tastefully decorated with flowers and ferns, and the class colors, yellow and white. The program, though short, was exceeding well rendered, and the teacher, Mrs. Lillian Ambler, deserves great credit for the manner in which she had trained the class.

The large audience filled the hall to its capacity and standing room was at a premium.

The singing by Mrs. Helen Kennedy of Detroit was a rare treat and thoroughly enjoyed.

Secures Injunction

Chas. E. Heliker of Farmington township has secured an injunction in the circuit court restraining his brother, Marlin Heliker, from cutting timber on a farm in this township where his brother lives.

Chas. E. Heliker claims that by the terms of the will of his mother, the late Rosamond E. Heliker, that the farm was left to the son, Marlin, who is to have the use of it so long as he lives and at his death it is to become to property of the son, Chas. E.
