College Board Votes Remain Independent

Trustees of Schoolcraft College have reaffirmed their intent to continue operating the institution "as an independent community college" in the face of a proposed state plan calling for a county-wide community college in Wayne County. The board last week, unanimously passed a motion stating its position in response to a request from the State Board of Public Community and Junior Colleges.

The plan developed by the state board calls for establishment of 30 community college districts in Michigan. The plan proposes that District 20 be comprised of Wayne County.

ing of the Northville Community Center for physical education instruction, intramural activities and varsity sports at a cost not to exceed $2,500 for 870 hours during the school year, and designated the Manufacturers National Bank as depository for Athletic Account funds.

IT HAD TO HAPPEN and it did. Dan McInerney, of Detroit (left) is shown accepting the car keys to the 1968 Red Barracuda from Auto Dealer Bill Cochran of 27777 Ford Road, Garden City. Cochran offered a new Barracuda to any amateur bowler collecting six straight strikes on the "Beat The Champ" Show. Dan did and he collected.

Income Tax Collections Are Smooth

Michigan's new income tax went into effect Oct. 1 and preliminary reports indicate that although no one is enthusiastic about having to pay another tax, the collection machinery set in motion to handle the new tax is proceeding as smoothly as could be expected. The Michigan Department of Revenue obtained from the federal Internal Revenue Service a list of approximately 220,000 names and addresses of Michigan employers who were withholding and reporting federal income tax withheld from their employees.

AN EMPLOYER'S tax guide with instructions and withholding tables were mailed to employers early in September. The Michigan income tax statute provides that every employer who is required to withhold (for purposes also required to withhold and report for state income taxes. The department reports that it is receiving a few calls from employers claiming that no instructions for withholding tables had been received. Failure to receive such material does not relieve the employer of his responsibility to withhold and pay the amounts withheld to the state.

THEREFORE the department urges any employer who has no such material to communicate with the Michigan Department of Revenue, 200 Tasting Blvd., Lansing, immediately. The material will be forwarded by return mail. Withholding is required on all salaries and wages paid on and after October 1, 1967.

Stadium Given Flag

LANSING --- A large new Michigan State flag has been presented to Tiger Stadium by Secretary of State James M. Hare, chairman of the state flag committee of Michigan Week. The new six by 10 foot banner will fly on a flagpole outside the stadium. The Michigan flag dates back to 1875, and this year marks the 150th anniversary of the birth of this important state symbol, Hare noted.
