W. C. T. U. Hears Rev. William O. Welton

"If the Foundations be Destroyed" was the topic of Rev. William O. Welton, speaker at the Farmington Woman's Christian Temperance Union on Tuesday, June 26, at the Williams home on Gayle Road.

The regular meeting was preceded by a potluck luncheon on the lawn. A gift to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Fund was voted, and plans made for meetings to be held in July and August.

It may be the Fourth of July but it was Christmas time the other night. The Society for the Prevention of Forgetting to Give Birth-day Gifts to Christmas Week Babies met, and our gifts were done up in gay Santa Claus wrappings, piled around a Christmas tree! The nice part of such a celebration arrangement is that you can celebrate your birthday six months later, and even holding of a birthday six months can be pretty nice when you're getting "over the hill".

Art Mann of 2608 1/2 Mile Road is feeling very aged this week, but at least he's laughing about it. The Farmington Jaycees, of which Art has been a very helpful part, presented the first retiring member with a humorous ceramic trophy at their banquet Friday evening.

A new car is a happy note in anyone's family, but for the George Scumans of 2515 Dresden Street, theirs made the Fourth of July a real humdinger. And why shouldn't it, since their turn-in on the brand new Impousine was at 9:30 A.M. Mrs. S. says she's eager to get her driver's license now, all the better for going places and visiting all the grandchildren, you know!

At the Charles Grose home at 2617 List Street, it's a newly acquired piano that is keeping the kids happy. Mr. Grose is quite an accomplished violinist, we understand, and Mrs. Grose, after 10 years of letting her fingers get stiff, is practicing up on the piano to accompany him. And, of course, all four of their children are practicing, too!

And for the Harold House family of 21512 Roosevelt Street, the new thrill is a deep freeze. It's the celebration of their tenth anniversary which was June 15th, but it didn't arrive until last Friday when Mrs. House and the children returned from an Ohio visit. They were at New Carlisle visiting her father, er, H. B. Hoke, and her sister, Miss Naomi Hoke.

A soon-to-be-bride is Miss Ellen Baird of Sorrento Street in Detroit. She was feted at a shower Thursday evening by her former favorite schoolmate at Highland Park Junior College, Mrs. Don Schlack of 20855 Roosevelt Street. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Schlack's sister, Mrs. Russell Ellis of 23245 List Street, and invited guests included our newly-married neighbor, Mrs. Robert Vesey of Dresden Street, who by coincidence knew well the good friend of her new neighbor, Mrs. Schlack. Others attending were Mrs. Hugh Sprouts of Dearborn, and from Highland Park, Mrs. Addison Baird, Mrs. William Baird, Mrs. Addison Kelley and Karen, Miss Marion Sproule, Miss Helen Giles, Mrs. Thomas Hogan, Miss Sallie Hanna, Mrs. Kenneth Wright, Miss Mae Morrissey and Miss Sally Spreading.

Married Saturday evening by candlelight were Charles Wagenschutz of Plymouth and our former neighbor, Mr. Connie Carrother of Reelford. Connie, a graduate of Clarenceville High in 1947, is the daughter of the Andrew Carrother's, who used to live on Eight Mile Road. The couple chose the Lutheran Church at Farmington Road and Five Mile for their double ring ceremony, and their first home will be out on Ann Arbor Trail, near the school where Mrs. Wagenschutz will teach this fall.

Their first grand child is the news from the L. W. VanWormer of 20215 Floral Street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mueller of 23240 Helen Street in Southfield Township, his mom being the former Corlisse Van Wormer, class of '49, Clarenceville High. Young Terry Robert weighed 7 pounds, three ounces when he arrived on June 21.
