P.M. people make your living all A.M.'s

Sherry and Brian had been looking for a place to live for a while. They had a lot of money, but they couldn't afford it. They went to the P.M. Apartments on Schenck Avenue in Detroit. They found a place that was perfect for them. They moved in on Monday, February 19, 1976.

Franklin Village's historic district will be the site of a planned expansion of the Curiosity Shoppe. Restaurateur Chuck Muir may be among the new occupants. (Staff photo)

Curiosity Shoppe plans expansion

The Curiosity Shoppe property in the historic district of Franklin Village is expanding.

Michael Michaels, owner of the 35-acre parcel on the southeast corner of Franklin and 14 Mile roads, has retained the new Southfield-based Monetary Investment Group to represent him in developing expansion, according to the firm's executive vice president Harold T. Stulberg.

About 12,000 square feet of additional space will be provided for office and commercial use on the parcel, Stulberg said.

In keeping with the historic theme, architect Nathan Levine is designing a group of one and two-story buildings in the existing Williamsburg motel.

SLATED FOR completion in the summer of 1977, facilities will be available for lease by members of the medical profession, insurance agents, boutique operators and other appropriate users, Stulberg said.

Chuck Muir has plans to locate a restaurant on the property, but his application for a liquor license was turned down by Franklin officials, Stulberg said. Space still is being reserved for the restaurant operation.

Resident earns CPA

A Southfield resident was among those recently granted a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) certificate by the Michigan State Board of Accountancy.

Named was Alan Bernstein, 28044 Summerdale.

Security Plus...

Enter this private walled estate by first securing clearance at its elaborate Gatehouse entrance!

When visiting friends, the kindly (but firm) "keeper of the gate" first checks with residents to assure your expectancy. He permits only those domestic services, deliveries and repair men cleared by residents and/or management. Your security is our business at Hunters Ridge, along with the comfort, conveniences and services synonymous with estate living! Rentals from $340.
