

If I look good to you, it's because Ralph Lauren taught me everything I know. About doing my own thing; playing it cool. Ralph's classic oxford cloth classics. A pale patch-up of a shirt. A double-pleated, grosgrain-belted skirt. They're whatever I want them to be. And that's exactly where I want to be, especially when he shows up in jeans! Flap-pocketed, patch-work shirt, multi-colored pastels, placket front. $44. Pleated skirt with belt. $50. Both in cotton oxford cloth for 4 to 14 sizes.

Ralph knows that being comfortable is really a state of mind. That the most classic-looking oxford blazer can be as easy as a denim jacket if you know how to wear it. Of course, if it's his unconstructed blazer, it's twice as easy. Pleated pants can be marvelously relaxed, too, especially when I wear them with his band-collared shirt. I never dreamed oxford could be like this. Thank you, Ralph Lauren, for making me the woman I am today.
