For lawyer School board fights over fee

By YVONNE DEVLIN
Debate stirred the members of Farmington's board of education when the subject of lawyers' fees cropped up.

Presently, the board pays an attorney from the law firm Clark, Hardy, Lewis and Fine a monthly retainer of $750, with an additional charge of $55 per hour, according to district business manager William Pryk.

The $55 per hour is for any time spent in preparation for court and arbitration cases over and above the reference kind of work, Pryk said.

Erma S. Makinen, board treasurer, suggested "talking the lawyer down to $30 an hour" and Trustee Michael Shippey recommended this as a savings of $250 a year.

"The $250 a year saved could be used for other purposes in the district," said Makinen.

Board President William R. Cortes called the present fee a fair rate and said it should not be negotiated. "I'm personally not in favor of the reduction," he said.

Sgt. Martina Van Ameyde, said the law firm has a state as well as a national reputation and that a reduction in fee may result in a junior partner being dispatched to work for the Farmington schools.

"A junior partner may or may not be as effective as Mr. (Sydney) Fine himself," he said.

Makinen's proposal failed to pass when voted upon by the board.

Girls' basketball clinic opens soon

A girls' basketball clinic will be offered at Bishop Borgess High School in Redford Township starting June 21. The clinic will be held Monday through Friday of that week.

Cost is $25 per player for three-hour daily sessions or $50 if the players is with a group of five or more.

The clinic will be conducted by Rose Swidzinski and Marcy Jobway, Oakland University coaches.

Ms. Swidzinski is a clinician and camp director. She was named 1974 Catholic League coach of the year and 1975 Oakland County coach of the year.

Ms. Jobway has never had a losing season in her 17 years of coaching at the high school level.

They will be assisted by Mary Kay Itynre, the 1975-76 all metro all-city, all Catholic player, and Kathy Hevel, the 1974 Oakland University Women's team captain.

The emphasis will be on development of sound fundamentals, jump and set shots, lay-ups, offensive moves with and without the ball, defensive and positive attitudes and team concept.

The clinics were designed to provide individual skill improvement for those girls who may not be able to afford a basketball resident camp, or those whose basketball background and experience are limited.

For registration call Ms. Swidzinski, 945-9851.
