

Fall ushers in familiar silhouette

SALE

Levolor Riviera
Custom Made Blinds

The new window treatment that makes all the others seem old fashioned. With new narrowed down slats and no tapes. Open, you hardly know they're there. Closed, they give privacy and a sweep of color. Choose them in shimmering metallic tones or 75 other colors from bright to almost invisible. Colors to use alone or mixed together to match your room exactly as you want it. Order now at sale prices and have them custom fitted to any window in your home.

Jacobson's

Birmingham
Woodward at Willis

Bloomfield Plaza
Telegraph at Maple

The slouched silhouette arrives for fall. (Sketches courtesy of Hudson's)

Remember the fashions that slouched over shoulders, billowed in the back, fitted a derriere and rounded the hips?

Well, here they come again, updated, adapted but still the same basic shape that elongates the figure and makes heads, hips and legs the focal point.

They're coming back this fall, and as with every season it's a silhouette that has evolved from seasons past. The tunic, for example, is part of that evolutionary chain and for fall will continue to be strong. The new shape, however, is wider on top, skinnier on the bottom and basically undefined in between.

It is a reversal of the big look that shook your skirts in 1975, placing volume on the torso and contrasting it against pencil thin skirts and pants and hooded or cloche-capped heads.

Though the roomy, billowy shape suggests an odd, mannequin-like posture, it is in many ways a majestic look, particularly in overcoat versions that demand full fur muffs and collars.

THE SILHOUETTE results from a number of details. Shoulders, ankles and heads all contribute to a line that flows from one area of the body to another.

Instead of set-in shoulders, most are raglan sleeves that hint at rather than define shoulders.

Heads are sleek—tucked up in turtlenecks or surrounded by cool necklines or hoods.

Ankles are noticed via thin legged pants—cuffed or not, or wider pants that have been caught up with ribbon or string. Also, boots have a slimming effect on the bottom half, worn with either skirts or pants.

All the treatments add to an elongated illusion that only gives a clue as to what's really underneath it all.

Dan Beranger designs the hip slung evening gown for fall.

a la mode

The reeler coat from Ramosport widens the shoulders and slims the hips.

On the balance, my twin-pocket shirt jacketed pantsuit is the up lifting buy of the season. White, yellow, blue or green cotton with short sleeves for 5 to 13 sizes. $29. From a collection of pantsuits in a variety of styles, colors and fabrics. Innovations for Young Dimensions in Suits.

$29 a superspecial number for incredible suiting.
And it's from

Saks Fifth Avenue

ALL HUDSON'S STORES CLOSED TUESDAY MORNING FOR INVENTORY

hudson's mid-year inventory
sales & clearances

*Hudson's will be closed Tuesday morning, June 22 for inventory. Be here at noon for beautiful buys.

1/3 to 1/2 off
and more

Delicious savings await you in
The Woodward Shops and Contemporary Collections
at Hudson's
Pontiac and Oakland.
Noon*, Tuesday,
June 22 through
Saturday, June 26.

Sportswear,
now 9.97 to 43.97

Dresses,
now 19.97 to 89.97

Not every price range available.

hudson's

FASHION CALENDAR

June 21—A benefit fashion show for the Police Athletic League will include the fall collection of Scott Barrow at 7 p.m. at Saks Fifth Avenue, Detroit.

June 22—Informal modeling of the Adele Saragson fall collection at Jacobson's, Birmingham.

LUNCHEON SHOWS

Tuesdays—Informal modeling by Alvin's at Cooper's Arms Restaurant, Rochester.

Tuesdays—Informal modeling by Boulevard Fashion Salon at the Atrium, Telegraph north of Twelve Mile.

Wednesdays—Informal modeling by Alvin's at the Troy Hilton Haymarket, Troy.

Fridays—Informal modeling by Alvin's at Bedell's, Bloomfield Hills.

The Fashion Calendar is published in the Monday edition of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers. For consideration of listings write: Fashion Calendar, 125 Bowers, Birmingham, 35212.

Shake it

The American Dairy Association suggests adding a variety of ingredients to milk shakes, which are basically made of one cup of milk, a scoop of ice cream and two tablespoons of syrup. Try chocolate syrup and peppermint for a summer treat, or fresh strawberries and strawberry ice cream.