

Sound Express

"Sound Express," an eight member band just returned from a three month tour in Southern California, brings music, Chicago style, to "Gateway to the World." The group will appear in the Farmington Community Center's bandshell for an afternoon and evening concert on June 4, then appear again to close the festival June 5. The center's ethnic festival opens at 5 p.m. June 3 and continues through the weekend with arts and crafts, foods, entertainment and imports from 26 ethnic groups.

The Schultzes mark 50 years

Clarence and Marguerite Schultz will be guests of honor at a family dinner in Farmington's Holiday Inn to mark the couple's 50th anniversary. They were married June 18, 1927, in Detroit, and were residents of that city until moving to Farmington 22 years ago.

Schultz is a native Detroit who worked for the S.S. Kresge Co. as a structural engineer for 38 years before his retirement in 1971. Mrs. Schultz, the former Marguerite Spencer, was born in Marseilles, Ill. She moved to Detroit as a child. Mrs. Donald Mansfield of Farmington. They have five grandchildren.

One of the guests at the dinner party will be Mrs. Shultz' 91-year-old mother.

Scouts visit air base

Boy Scout Troop 179 traveled south this spring to Dayton, Ohio for a visit at Wright Patterson Air Force Base.

The troop is led by Scout Master Ken Milliken and is sponsored by Church of Christ.

Six fathers accompanied the 20 scouts for a weekend, a twist from regular outings when campouts are usually held.

Highlight of the visit was a tour of the base museum, with films and comprehensive displays of aircraft history from manned kite flying machines to space age capsules.
