

A very unique store, a unique family (owned by the Adreth brothers — Graig, Gary and Richard), Whats Upstairs has recently relocated to its current street level location after spending some 3 years perched in a second story loft in downtown Birmingham (just above where they are now). Tripling the size of their display space in the move, Whats Upstairs now offers a unique concept in merchandising, an open and friendly shopping atmosphere. We shop all over the world to bring you unique and exciting jewelry: a vast selection of men's and women's Italian 18 Karat gold link chains, from India, exotic antique ivory bracelets and contemporary ivory and silver rings from Spain. Also pottery, stained glass, ceramics and wicker, all handmade. We also support such local artists as Robert Black, Todd Warner, Dale Johnson, Linda Rontal and Linda Whitehead. Whats Upstairs is so many things . . . more than that its a feeling . . . a feeling of handmade uniqueness and excitement. 120 W. Maple 644-1651

Whats Upstairs

Lloyd, Art and Dennis Lake, three generations and 100 years of jewelry experience under one roof. Lloyd began his jewelry experience in Oakland County as a watch repairman in 1913 and found that many of his customers were from Birmingham. Art joined his father and in 1945 the two men opened Lake Jewelers in downtown Birmingham. Maple and Woodward can be called the cornerstone of Birmingham and it is appropriate that Lake's, one of the oldest stores in Birmingham is found on the southwest corner. The youngest Lake, Dennis, joined the team four years ago and worked as an apprentice on the jeweler's bench for two years. It is quite understandable why Lloyd, Art and Dennis Lake are recognized and respected for their expertise with precious gems and dependable craftsmanship. 100 S. Maple 644-5351

Lake Jewelers

The Birmingham Bookstore was designed by Kenneth Neumann, B.B.A. of the Rossen-Neumann Associates. The warm hospitable interior provides an excellent opportunity for browsing, buying and serendipity. The inventory is constantly changing and is large and varied. There are 95¢ paperback books as well as a $750.00 set of the Leonardo Da Vinci, "Madrid Codices." The friendly and qualified staff provides many special services; special orders; search for the out of print books; gift wrapping; mailing; personalized attention and advice. A unique feature of the Birmingham Bookstore is its "Sunday Special."

Some authors who have visited Birmingham Book Store in 1977: Edwin Newman, Joe Falls, John Gardner, Judy Blume, Elmore Leonard and Ken and Joan Israel.

Betty and Sol Kurtzman own and operate this exciting store. Jaclyn Dysters is the able and experienced manager. All this can be found at the Birmingham Bookstore, 263 Pierce 642-4404

Birmingham Bookstore

Pass by the Campus Men's Shop on Woodward north of Maple and you will see one of the most impressive new storefront designs in downtown Birmingham. The stunning brown marble and natural wood facade is highlighted by three large display windows featuring current styles from the recently expanded men's department and offers a unique view into the spacious new interior as well. Over the past eight years The Campus Men's Shop has served the needs of this community's young men in high school and college. The recent remodeling reflects an ongoing commitment to continue providing this service and the best selection possible in traditional men's, young men's and boys clothing. Dress clothing sizes range from Boys 18-Mens 46. The large sportswear department includes sizes ranging from Boys 12 through Mens Extra Large. Birmingham - 116 N. Woodward 642-1965. Grosse Pointe - 17045 Kercheval 844-0701

Men's Campus Shop

As though a bit of Copenhagen's famed Tivoli Gardens has blossomed right here in Birmingham this summer, Linda and Paul McKenney have assembled the best of Danish international design in their elegant new shop appropriately named Tivoli Ltd.

In a lovely pristine setting Tivoli presents us with classic contemporary design ranging from the 201 year old Blue Fluted pattern by Royal Copenhagen Porcelain Company to the most precious and unusual enamel and silver baby spoons we've ever seen by Antonia Bibik-Christopher of California.

An ample stock of Holmegaard crystal, Georg Jensen silver, Constance Leller linens, and other noted designers clearly establishes Tivoli as a new leader in quality table top accessories.

The treasures found at Tivoli Ltd. are not to be missed by devotees of fine European design. 330 Hamilton 642-8885

Tivoli