

Beta Eta chapter honors 2 Farmington teachers

Harrison High School teacher Margaret Rosbolt and Flanders Elementary School resource room consultant Marion Rosbolt recently were initiated into the Beta Eta chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma at its annual candlelight ceremonies.

Delta Kappa Gamma is an international honorary society for women educators. The Beta Eta chapter includes educators in the Farmington-Claresville area.

Margaret Rosbolt, currently teaching English at Harrison, has served as chairperson of the English department; helped organize the American Studies pilot program; and was founder of the National Honor Society at Harrison.

She is advisor of the Aquilla Magazine, a fine arts magazine for Harrison students which sponsors poetry reading, a photograph contest and a writing contest for students.

Mrs. Rosbolt majored in literature and writing in Wayne State University's honors English program and was a lab technician in pathology research in Miami, Fla. before attending Wayne.

She and her husband, Dr. James F. Rosbolt, have three children.

MARION ROSBOLT, Margaret Rosbolt's sister-in-law, has taught for 11 years in Farmington schools and 12 years in Detroit after moving to the Detroit area from Indiana where she taught for one year.

She currently maintains the resource room at Flanders Elementary School for learning disabled children. She is a member of the State Committee for revising accreditation for teacher consultants for the physically impaired and an Explorer Advisor for the Boy Scouts of America.

She holds a baccalaureate degree from Wayne State University, a master's degree from the University of Michigan in orthopedic special education.
