

A face lift from the aloe

By LORRAINE McCLISH

Juice from the aloe plant, used for centuries by those in semi-tropical climates as a healing agent for cuts and burns, is now the main ingredient in a do-it-yourself face lift.

The health food stores were the first to introduce aloe to the northern United States, and now Bea Lynn, of Bea Lynn Coiffures & Fashions, is introducing the non-surgical face lift to clients who come to her shop at 38255 Ten Mile in Farmington.

The "Ideal Lift" comes from an aloe factory in Texas, one of two areas in the U.S. where the plant grows. The other is in the Florida Keys.

Ms. Lynn was attracted to the product because of relief her husband found after using aloe on a bad sunburn.

THE FACIAL MASK has a drawing, tightening, quality that can not be denied, and the entire routine it requires is relaxing, stimulating and refreshing all at the same time.

"If a woman can't take a half hour for herself a couple times a week, then something is radically wrong," Ms. Lynn says of the 30 minutes required for the facial.

She advocates having a professional give the first facial, then purchasing the kit with easy-to-follow directions for a follow-up.

The manufacturers recommend one facial every 72 hours for two weeks; then continuing on a once-a-week basis.

Most of the Farmington area women who are using the product now use it for their entire face and neck area. But some have purchased the kit to use just to get rid of puffiness under the eyes, or for lines around the mouth, or just under the chin.

"Under the chin is where most women need the most help," Ms. Lynn said, though at least one woman she knows is trying it out on the back of her hands.

She claims noticeable firming-up results can be seen in about two weeks, and she boasts she has plenty of clients who will give testimonials.

IRENE MACKINNON, known in the Farmington area for her work with the Farmington Community Center, told her audience late last month at "Irene Mackinnon Presents," about the new facial. She gave a facial away as a door prize, and said "For those of you who don't know me, I can tell you I'm looking five years younger."

Minnie Tucker, manicurist at Bea Lynn's, claims she eliminated the puff-iness under her eyes in a short period of time while she was getting ready to take a vacation cruise.

"Up and out, up and out," Ms. Lynn says over and over as she instructs a client who will be giving herself her own facial.

"When I see someone sitting under a drier pulling at her chin, I have a terrible urge to go over and slap her hands. It is the worst habit she can have to make herself look older quicker, yet so many women persist in doing it."

She continues her instruction by saying, "Think beautiful thoughts while you are resting. No smoking. No answering the phone. Lie down, with the head back and feel slightly elevated. No pillow."

The "Ideal Lift" kit contains five products which add up to a complete skin care program. They contain, along with aloe, cherry pit oil, collagen, a blend of herbs, proteins, vitamins and minerals, a solution of organic gel, Vitamin E oil and Vitamins A and D.

"When I see someone sitting under a drier pulling at her chin, I have a terrible urge to go over and slap her hands. It is the worst habit she can have to make herself look older quicker."
