Elderly life doesn't have to be lonely

"Women have a longer life expectancy than men," says Carol S. Hollenshead. "But this means they are also far more likely to be widowed during their later years, and they have fewer options for remarrying," says Ms. Hollenshead. "But the limit of the li

In a neating way.

TO ENSURE their independence, women should look into what their incomes will be from social security, pensions, insurance policies and the like, says Ms. Hollenshead.

If their husbands are covered by a persion fund, they should investigate whether they are included under survivers. Sheefiles, the effort should be retirement, and to practice living on a reduced budget.

"In addition to an adequate income, the most important prerequisite to an
