A few weeks ago a hand with a 6-6 major suit distribution was presented in this column. Today's North had the same problem, but with the variation that the hand was held in a master point event rather than a Swiss team.

North was immediately delighted when South opened the bidding in 1♣, but somewhat dismayed when West preempted in clubs. His cue bid in clubs was to show first round club control and by inference spade support.

At most tables East had defensive values as well as the club support and did not take the sacrifice in clubs. A few East-West pairs bid seven clubs and received a plus score when North persisted to the recent winners:

P. Zervos will lead Greek congregation

Peter E. Zervos has been elected president of Holy Cross Greek Orthodox Church, 25225 Middlebelt, in Farmington Hills, by members of the congregation.

He is a founding member of Holy Cross and resides with his wife, Anna, and their three children in Southfield.

Zervos is a graduate of Lawrence Institute of Technology and is president of his own construction company.

Following his installation, on Jan. 22, he assumed the lay-leadership of the 300 communicants of the church.

EMU's station adds programs

Eastern Michigan University's public radio station, WEMU, has expanded its broadcast day.

The 16,000-watt station added early morning hours to its programming recently, expanding hours of operation to between 6 a.m. and 1 a.m. daily.

The station's signal (89 on the FM dial), reaches most of southeastern Michigan.

"The Morning Show" from 6-11 a.m. features national news from National Public Radio, local news and sports, NPR features and other human interest shorts. The show will feature "light and lively" jazz music—a number of short cuts, renditions and popular selections by jazz artists.
