For those who live with or deal with children

By LORAINE McCLISH

Another study group based around Rudolph Dreikurs' book, "Children: The Challenge," will begin in the third week of February.

The group is sponsored by the Family Education committee of Farmingen Youth Assistance.

Participants will have an option of Tuesday or Thursday evening, or Thursday morning sessions. Sessions will run for 10 weeks.

The committee has essions. Sessions will run for 10 weeks.

The committee has ranged a session of the sessi filled.

"A common goal of parents is to be better ones," said Ted Constantine, speaking for the committee. "We would all like our days to run as smoothly as possible. Many times it

4.000 Hours

1,000 Hours Helen Gallagher.

Mary Boland.

Beverly Brown.

seems as if our interactions with our children are filled with clashes and confrontations, and parents feel frus-

children are filled with clashes and confinations, and parents feel frustrated.

THE STUDY sessions the committee offers to combat the frustration were offered last fall. Participants in those sessions found study group useful.

A sampling of the topics discussed, in a round-table format, are-fighting among children; fears and temper tantrums, bad habits, demands for undustrention; and dawding at media left of the control of the control

SPEAKER FOR the kick-off meeting will be Jerry Vashinsty, rincipal of the Parker Elementary School in Royal Oak, and a past president of the Michigan Elementary School Counselors Association.
The first session will be followed by a question and answer period and a workshop.
All told, five study groups, numbering a maximum of 15 in each group, with the control of t

Family Education of Farmington is a non-profit community-service group.

Its approach is educational and uses individual psychology, as developed by Alfred Adler and Dreikurs.

The concept is based on the principle that man is a social being and there is a logic of social living which holds that all people are equally deserving of respect.

JERRY YASHINSKY

Farminaton Observer

Suburban Life

${\it New\,\, officers\,\, elected},$ volunteers are honored at Providence Hospital

The volunteers of Our Lady of Providence League installed officers and received service wawris during their annual meeting on Jan. 17 at Providence Hospital, Southfield.

Irene Silverman of Oak Park septent the president's gavel from Selverman of Data Park septent the president's gavel from Selverman was chairwonnan of the Mrs. Silverman was chairwonnan of the Silverman was chairwonnan of the Helm Callagher of Livonia, president-elect last year.

Other new officers include Helen Gallagher of Livonia, president-elect Severly McCamman of West Bloomfield. Secretary: and Janet Selverly McCamman of West Bloomfield. Secretary: and Janet Silverman was chairwonnan of the finance committee. The league board is completed by the appointed chairmen of the standing committees, including Sam Kastner of Southfield. Fred Fooley of Farmington. Marie Reynolds of West Bloomfield and Selma Casey of Livonia.

Sister Xavier, administrator, and Selma Casey of Livonia.

Sister Xavier, administrator announced that volunteers had contributed $2,688 hours of service to Providence and its patients during 1977.

During the meeting, $8 service wards were presented by Gerald Mrs. Casey.

Among those receiving awards were:

Southfield 100 Hours

Cele Colman, Harry Colman, Noreen DeYoung, Carolyn Donald, Grace Feeney, Ruth Friebe, June Gibbons, Frieda Goldfine, Dorothy King, Fara Riche, Marcella Roth, Sarabel Stern, Orville Thorley.

Bessie Campbell, Anita Hunt, Shirley Katz, Dorothy Kovac, Virginia Madias, Geraldine Palmer, Rose Plotnik.

Sam Kastner, Lucille Kennedy, Rita Sproule.

2.000 Hours Betty Burns, Pia Park. 5,000 Hours

Eulalia Bowen. Farmington/Farmington Hills 100 Hours

Kay Vevlin, Margaret Foster, Fred Fozley , Marion Greene, Susan Lati-mer, Blanche Shawn, Diane Dugrue, Iris Vecellio.

500 Hours

Eugene Franco, Dorothy Harbridge, Betty Pichurski, Dorothy Uhl, Marion VanEvery.

Marie Kennedy, Rita Mosshamer, Janet Smith.

Gladys Dorsch, Rose Kelleher, Natalie Sherry, Kathryn Tracy.

2,000 Hours

Marion LaPointe

West Bloomfield 100 Hours

Stephanie Czerniak.

500 Hours

Chris Kamola.

Jean Fleisher, Beverly McCamman

Bloomfield Hills 100 Hours

Rosemary Laughlin. 4-part 'caring' series set to begin at Mercy

"Is Anybody There? Does Anybody Care?" is a four-part series of pro-grams, set to begin in Mercy Center Feb. 16 and continue on consecutive others, enough to give care, to them-selves and to others.

Series tickets can be purchased for $10 per person; or individual tickets, at $2.50 per session through Jean Feteri, at the center, 476-8010.
The program leads off with "The Universal Experience" with Rev. Rob-ert Weikart who is the Episcopalian chaplain for Mt. Carmel Hospital.

Fairytales are topic for lecture

The significance and use of fair-ytales in early childhoot development will be discussed at 8 pm. Feb. II, in Wildort Kinder House preschool, 16945 W. Fourteen Mile, Deverly Hills. Speaker for the evening is Loe Heir-man, associate professor of classics at Northern Illinois University, whose upple is "Our Children Need Fair-gylates."

Heirman was educated in The Netherlands and received his degrees from the University of Leyden, Holland. He lectures extensively on the subject of myths and their backgrounds.

The lecture is sponsored by the morpoit Oakland Wakinf Association, and is open to the public of the Market of the Mark

New techniques in making realistic "paintings" utilizing layered tissue poper in various colors is a specialty of the speaker who will address the Farmington Artists Culb Feb.

The program will begin at 7 p.m. in Farmington Hills Community Library on Twelve Mile. A nominal voluntary free is asked of suests at the Guests at rammigton futils Community Lurary or Invelve Mile. A nominal volunlary fee is asked of guests at the door. Olga Constantine, an art teacher at Wayne State University's School of Fine Arts, is known as a "modern realist." Her subjects often are low-key survises, sunests, or other striking landscape themes. Often they are rendered in delicate chalk pastels; sometimes in oil pastels or other mediums in combination. She expects to show slides of her work, demonstrating these various unusual methods to achieve realistic effects. She will also talk about a number of her finished landscape paintings will show to the guests, and then answer questions from the audience. The artists' club's next public show and sale is set for April.

The foursome that will head Our Lady of Providence League, are Janet Smith, (at left) of Farm volunteer organization at Providence Hospital in inglon; Helen Gallagher of Livonia; Irene Silverman of Oak Park; and Beverly McCamman of West

Paper-painter speaks at art club meeting

SALE. . . Made-to-measure draperies The savings are outstanding! The selection is large. Choose solids, abstracts and florals. . .in sheers, damasks, casements and antique satins. All from Stead Textiles. First, measure your windows. Then we'll carefully make your pinch pleat or shirred rod pocket draperies with the utmost care and attention to detail. If you wish, our drapery service staff will determine your window measurements and we will also hang your draperies for a minimal charge. Come see our savingspriced made-to-measure drapery selection. Sale ends February 25.

Jacobson's

OPEN THURSDAY AND FRIDAY EVENINGS UNTIL 9:00 FREE PARKING JUST A STEP AWAY - WE WILL VALIDATE YOUR TICKET