

A FRIEND'S ADVICE

Woman Saved From a Serious Surgical Operation.

Louisville, Ky.—"For four years I suffered from female troubles, headaches, and nervousness. I could not sleep, had no appetite and it hurt me to walk. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the result is I feel like a new woman. I am well and strong, do all my own house work and have an elegant home. I feel like I have a friend in Lydia E. "Fool that you are," rejoined his wife, who was there with the parrot. "I love you just as well as if you had good sense."

ACTRESS TELLS SECRETS.

A well known actress gives the following recipe for gray hair: To half pint of water add 1 oz. Bay Rum, a small box of Harco Compound, and 1/2 oz. of glycerine. Any doctor can put this up or you can mix it at home at very little cost. Full directions for making and use come in each box of Harco Compound. It will gradually darken streaked, faded gray hair, and will not wash out. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off.

New Meter Successful.

The latest development in metering appliances is a coal meter built on the principle of a water or gas meter. This instrument was devised primarily to measure the coal consumption of factory boiler rooms, but it may find a wider application on a smaller scale, such as in the home. It consists of a water meter, the stream of broken coal pouring down a chute and turning an inclined vane. The meter can also be used for grain, according to the inventor. Its use on coal was entirely successful.

Style Tendencies in Spring Coats

Manufacturers and costumers are about to disclose to us their new models in spring coats. They have been getting ready for the advance spring fashion shows, where their garments will be exhibited to view with many others in bidding for the favor of buyers. Before back their judgment with orders, and their appreciation is expressed in terms of money, so we shall know very soon to what style tendencies they pin their faith.

Except for fur-trimmed and sports coats very few new models have been shown, so far. Judging from these, pockets, collars and girdles are going to be featured in new developments. Coats will probably be less wide and will hang straight. Skirts are to be larger than ever and that we may have a choice as to length in our outer garments for the new season.

The privilege of looking behind the scenes—that is, into the workrooms of those who are creating the new styles, might bring to view a coat like this, shown in the picture. It is made of a smooth, soft cloth and has a giraffe that goes all round the waist (which is something new in giraffes) and hangs in long ends at the front. The collar hangs straight and is moderately full. The front is arranged in a long panel by means of one deep plait at each side.

The collar has an inlay of silk in a contrasting color, and this contrast is worked into the giraffe. The pocket is very large and emphasized by stitching in narrow stripes. No one could overlook the cuffs, and this type of cuff is several new models.

Let us hope that coats for spring will be as becoming as those of the present season which are enticing enough to almost make one regret the passing of winter.

Old and New in Coiffures

No one tendency in hairdressing has seized the popular imagination for some time. This being the case, you can have gone on doing their hair in any one of the several accepted styles, and each has followed the particular mode that pleases her best. The Bobby coiffure, of which one development is the shaven in the middle, has many adherents as any. It has distinction and neatness to recommend it, but it is not always becoming.

Necessity is the imperative requirement in all the hair. Waxed hair, too, is a necessity in the coiffure of today, whether it be simple or elaborate. No loose ends or straggling locks are tolerated. Ends are disposed of either by a simple trim or by a smooth and carefully placed curl.

For evening wear, nearly all the approved coiffures are dressed high on the head. Rather large jeweled combs are their favorite decoration. But if one is the possessor of an old-fashioned comb of silver or gold filigree, or of coral or cameo, it may replace more modern conceptions, with much satisfaction to its wearer.

When, in cutting out a blouse or other garment from silk, there has been enough material allowed to give a certain amount of leeway in placing the pieces of the pattern, on the silk, arranging to keep those pieces as much as possible toward one definite side of the breadth will often result in getting one a very available long, straight strip of silk, enough for a Windsor tie or a bag, when lack of foresight would leave of the same cut pieces of comparatively little use to the needlewoman.

Neck: Finish.

A pretty finish for the neck of a frock is to cut it round and trim with a band of fur.
