We are always pleased to have our friends send in any items of importance as it helps to make a better paper, but we request that they send them in while the news is fresh. Events that have happened more than a week previous to the time of printing usually lose their importance to a considerable extent. Help us to get the news and get it while it is fresh.

Cause and Effect.
The ratio between cause and effect is fixed by an inviolable law, a law to which there is no exception—the law that causes are always adequate and effects always consequent. It took more than Helen's face to launch a thousand ships, and the failure of Cleopatra's nose to be longer or shorter than it was did not affect appreciably the course of history.—New York Times.

Have been built and actually delivered to retail buyers since August 1, 1916. These figures—320,817—represent the actual number of cars manufactured by us since August 1st, 1916, and delivered by our agents to retail buyers. This unusual fall and winter demand for Ford cars makes it necessary for us to confine the distribution of cars only to those agents who have orders for immediate delivery to retail customers, rather than permit any agent to stock cars in anticipation of later spring sales.

We are issuing this notice to intending buyers that they may protect themselves against delay or disappointment in securing Ford cars. If, therefore, you are planning to purchase a Ford car, we advise you to place your order and take delivery now.

Immediate orders will have prompt attention.
Delay in buying at this time may cause you to wait several months.
