Detroit Theatres

THE DUPLEX THEATRE

has the distinction of being the only theatre of its kind in the world. Much interest is shown by all visitors to this theatre because of its feature that stand as long as wanted by patrons of moving pictures. The fact that there are two auditoriums in one enables each house to be used in turn for the regular performance of pictures. The Duplex has attracted the attention of theatre owners from other cities and much favorable comment has been given to this theatre as the "Movie House of the Future." A splendid bill is to be shown at this place this week.

DETROIT

Chamney Ottott is indebted to the famous negro poet, Paul Lawrence Dunbar, for the exquisite verses of one of his greatest songs, "Who Knows" which he introduces in "The Heart of Father Whack," coming to the Detroit opera house next Monday for a week.

Worth White.

They tell us that not a sound has ever ceased to vibrate through space; that not a ripple has ever been lost upon the ocean. Much more is it true that not a true thought, not a pure resolve, not a loving act has ever gone forth in vain.—Exchange.

The First Eraser.

India-rubber was used for the first time as an eraser in 1770, when a very small piece was sold for three marks. It was, however, many years later before it was put into general use. Prior to this the crumb of bread was used for erasing purposes.

The Friend.

It is in the time of trouble, when some to whom we may have looked for consolation and encouragement regard us with coldness, and others, perhaps, treat us with hostility, that the warmth of the friendly heart, and the support of the friendly hand, acquire increased value, and demand additional gratitude.—Bishop Mant.

When the Fox Naps.

The fox nearly always takes his nap during the day in the open fields, along the sides of the ridges or under the mountain, where he can look down upon the busy farms beneath and hear their many sounds.

Many Exempt From Vaccination.

It has been stated that non-vaccinated children born in the British Isles are never vaccinated, the greater number being exempted by a declaration of conscientious objection made by the parents.

Cosack Superstition.

Among the numerous superstitions of the Cosacks there is a belief that they will enter heaven in a better state of moral purity if they are personally clean when killed in battle.

Some Hope.

Italy and England, history tells us, have never been at war with each other, a fact attributed to by no Italian proverb of undiscoverable origin and great age, which runs: "War with all the world—peace with England."

Virius.

Most people think they are virtuous merely because they are tame and inoffensive. Tameless is not virtue; it is merely the indication of a force too feeble to run into excess. Virtue appears only when a strong force is wisely exerted under a strong regulation.—Exchange.

Yes, of Course.

The young lady across the way says she sees a good deal in the paper about the harmful effects of coffee and she should think they'd find some way of getting rid of the nicotine.—Carson Magazine.

Oldness Life's Tonic.

If you want to get the worth of the bargain in life cultivate gladness. The one who mopes does not enjoy himself, and surely no one enjoys him.—Exchange.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

Let us question the thinkers and doers, And hear what they honestly say, And you'll find they believe, like bold poets, In "where there's a will, there's a way."

ECONOMY IN CAKE MAKING.

We are slowly coming to realize that other fats besides butter may be used and result in a successful cake. Another idea seems to prevail: that milk is another essential; water, coffee, fruit may all be used to take the place of milk.

Of course where milk is abundant there is no excuse for the economy, but with milk ten and even fifteen cents a quart the expense may be saved.

The tedious process of creaming the butter and sugar is not necessary for an every-day cake; the fat may be warmed not melted, then it mixes quickly; the eggs beaten and added first, the whites folded in at the last.

Another and still shorter cut is performed in the following manner—beat the eggs with the sugar, add flour and other ingredients and stir in the melted butter or fat at the last, then give the cake a good beating and see what a tasty fine-grained cake you have with little time expended.

When using any fat instead of butter, salt must be added to bring out the flavor. Pastry flour is smoother in texture than bread flour and cakes and pastry made from it are fine-grained and better textured. It is not need the many siftings which bread flour seems to require.

Fats skimmed from the tops of soups is vegetables have not been cooked in drippings from roasts and chickens, but all good fats to use in cake making. When the fat is melted and added last, the cake should not be stirred much, until after the fat is added, then give it a good beating, by stirring before, it seems to toughen the texture.

Prime Cake.—Three eggs, one cupful of powdered sugar, three tablespoons of sour cream, two cups of flour, two tablespoons of oil, one teaspoonful of allspice, two teaspoons of cinnamon, a cupful of cooked, finely cut prunes, half a teaspoonful of soda and three-quarters of a cupful of melted butter added at the last, then give a good beating.

There Is No Disputing the Value in Bond's $15 Clothes

No argument about it at all—it's there and it's tailored to stay. This fact is self-evident the minute you see a Bond $15 Suit or Topcoat. It is more evident when you try one on—and still more after you have given the garment some actual wear. Bond's values, together with Bond's price, are building up a tremendous business.

Real Hand Tailoring

Bond's Clothes are really hand-tailored and finished. The last process which every Bond garment goes through is hand pressing. This gives it that tailored-to-order look that can be found only in hand-tailored clothes.
