FARMINGTON BOY IN FRANCE

Allen Prindle Writes to his mother of His Trip to the Fighting Lines in Europe

Somewhere in France. September 27, 1917.

Dear Mother—
Well, we landed safe and sound, and I feel fine. We came all through England and into France, came across the English Channel in a very bad storm, but I did not get sick.

I did not come through with the regiment, as I was in a detail that stayed behind and looked after the freight and automobiles. I think we loaded, and unloaded about 20 times. Did not have a warm meal in seven days and have not had my clothes off in eight days, but anything goes in time of war.

This surely is a wonderful country. There is as much difference between this country and ours as daylight and darkness, they are about 100 years behind the times according to American ideas.

I got into camp at 11 o'clock yesterday and was only here a few minutes when I had to take a man to the hospital—he fell and broke his leg.

I have seen some fellows from the Harper hospital unit. They are about 15 miles from here, and I sure was glad to see them and talk to some one who could talk United States. I can't get this French through my head at all.

I sure had some fun the other day in town, trying to order a meal in one of these restaurants. I have a book of French, and I had to point out word for word what I wanted, but I got something to eat after a while.

Well I hope you are all as well as ever, we are fine. Give my regards to all.

Allan Prindle.

German Red Cross Circle

A very pleasant meeting of the Red Cross Ladies' Aid Sewing circle of the German church was held with Mrs. John Landau last Thursday afternoon.

On account of the Northville fair and rainy weather, quite a few members were absent. Those who came finished the usual large amount of work, and were also enjoying Mrs. Landau's new player piano meanwhile.

A delicious lunch was served, after which the meeting adjourned to meet with Emma Gildemeister, October 18th, unless otherwise stated next week. All members invited to be present.

Farmington Fair

The Farmington fair proved to be a great success, and a large crowd gathered to see the "world's" greatest attractions.

The fair was held at Gerald Parker's home Monday and Tuesday. The attractions were: "The Sleeping Beauty," the "Cigarette Fiend," William Dickerson, the Wonderful Magician, Madam Ruth Green, the Gypsy fortune teller, and many other attractions that made the fair an exciting one.

The young people had a good time, and some of the features were well worthy of older heads.

Wedding Anniversary

Mrs. R. H. Sowersby, at Rosemond farm, south and east of town, in her usual delightful manner, was hostess to a very pleasant 6 o'clock wedding dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur E. Munger, of this village, September 26, 1917, whose twenty-eighth anniversary occurred on that day.

Tables were decorated with tea roses, the center piece being a wedding cake adorned with a wedding bell in the center. The family and small party of guests from Detroit enjoyed the repast hugely.

The evening was spent with music and in social intercourse, and Mr. and Mrs. Munger were presented with a number of useful and pretty gifts from their friends, making the occasion one to be remembered.

Water Rentals Due

The quarterly water rental became due on October 1st, and those using village water are requested to make their payments before October 15th, to Village Treasurer N. J. Eisenlord. According to the village ordinance the water will be turned off if prompt payment is not made.

W. E. Lord, Village Clerk.

Local News

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harding spent Monday in Detroit.

Mrs. T. H. McGee was in Detroit Saturday, for the day.

Miss Lizzie Schaepteter was a Detroit visitor one day last week.

The Priscilla club met with Mrs. Manley Newman Tuesday afternoon.

J. E. Hoard, who has just returned from the Philippines and the "far east," has been visiting his mother, Mrs. William Perkins, on Oakland road.

Mr. and Mrs. Reed Hambleton were at Kego Harbor Tuesday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lockman the latter being a cousin of Mrs. Hambleton.

Ethel Graham, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Starr Graham, fell down the cellar stairs Wednesday morning, breaking both bones in her arm.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Tredway and family, of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. George Lock and children, of Romeo, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Smith, helping to celebrate their father's 74th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ryder are entertaining a little Miss who arrived Tuesday October 2nd, at their home on Roger street. Her weight is 9 3/4 pounds, and every indication points to the fact that she will remain permanently.

Mrs. William Shear was entertained at Miss Winnie Oldenburg's Sunday, the latter was entertaining her brother, Will; also his wife and daughter and her sister Cynthia and her husband, all of Detroit. Mr. Nacker, father of Mrs. Will Oldenburg, was also among the guests. They report a sumptuous dinner and a very enjoyable time.

The directors of the Farmington State Savings Bank have decided to postpone the remodeling of their banking office indefinitely. In view of general conditions, it was deemed advisable to defer the expenditures that the contemplated improvements would entail, in order to be in a position to render the greatest possible aid to our local committee in the current Liberty Bond Campaign.

The Michigan state conference of charities and corrections will be held at Lansing, October 21 to 23, and an interesting program has been prepared.

Card of Thanks

Mrs. Charles Mosher and sons wish to thank Farmington Lodge No. 151, F. & A. M., relatives, friends and neighbors, Maccabees and Ladies' Union for their kindness, sympathy and beautiful floral offerings during their late sad bereavement.

Mrs. J. M. Cox

Mrs. Hattie Ella Cox (nee Chamberlin), widow of the late Josiah Mogg Cox, was born September 10th, 1856, at Wyandotte, Mich., and departed this life at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles F. Rubert, Belleville, Mich., September 28th, 1917, aged 61 years and 18 days.

She was united in marriage to Josiah Mogg Cox, November 28th, 1874, at Farmington, by the Rev. William Black, and is survived by C. Singelmann, Charles Henry Edgar, C. Cox, Detroit; Mrs. Minnie L. Rubert, Belleville; Roy F. Cox, Redford; Mrs. Bertha A. Young, Farmington; Mary E. Cox, Cleveland, Ohio; Joseph Cecil Cox, Albion; also ten grandchildren and one brother, Clinton R. Chamberlin, Forestburg, S. D., besides a host of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Cox spent most of her life in Farmington township, and was an active member of the Baptist church. About 18 months ago she visited her daughter, Mrs. Charles Rubert, of Belleville, and while there was stricken with a lingering illness that rendered her an invalid, and which resulted in death. Although a constant sufferer she was a source of inspiration and help to her many friends, greeting each with a sunny smile and a word of cheer, and she not only shared but imparted to them the many blessings received from her Heavenly Father, so that each went out from her presence feeling they had been in touch with one who had communion with Jesus.

We mourn not less she is above Where pain no more can goad. She spent a calm and peaceful life Relieving others' load.

Dearest Mother, thou hast left us, And the less we deeply feel, But 'tis God that hath bereft us, He can all our sorrows heal.

CHURCH NOTES

Salem Evangelical

Rev. A. C. Stange will preach next Sunday morning at 10:45, eastern time, in the Farmington German church.

The Farmington Ladies' Aid meets on the first Wednesday in each month at the parsonage.

Baptist Church.

Rev. J. W. Salton, Pastor.

Rev. E. Halliwell will preach next Sunday at 11 a. m. on "God's Building," and at 7 on "Salvation by Faith. What is it? Why is it? Does it Effect Ones Conduct?" Everybody welcome.

Pastor J. W. Salton is preaching in Novi Baptist church next Sunday.

Sunday school at noon.

Methodist Church

Rev. James Priestley, Minister.

The date for Rally Day is October 14th; make your plans to attend. Watch for program next week. In the evening of that day a stereopticon lecture will be given on "Martin Luther."

Sunday morning is the most worshipful hour of the Lord's Day; you need its inspiration and uplift. We shall expect you to be present next Sunday morning and enjoy with us the sanctuary service. The pastor will bring you a message of strength and cheer. The boys and girls will be glad to know there will be a story for them at this service.

It was surely encouraging to see the fine company at Sunday school last Sunday. You will be there next Sunday and help to make it the best missionary Sunday in our school.

In the evening the pastor will preach on a most interesting theme, "Are You A Slacker or A Hero?" None wish to be known as slackers, but have we the real stuff of heroes. The message Sunday evening will really interest you. Come and bring your friends.

Thursday evening prayer meetings are most profitable means of grace. Beginning with Wednesday, October 11th, we shall take up the study of John's gospel in these meetings. On that evening the first chapter will be taken up.

Tuesday afternoon next the Woman's Home Missionary society will hold its meeting at the parsonage. A very cordial invitation is extended to all to attend this meeting.

Universalist Church

Dr. Moore will preach again in the Farmington church next Sunday at 8:30 p. m., instead of 3 o'clock as heretofore. The convention of Universalists from all over the state, being held at the Church of Our Father, Detroit, making this change advisable for the convenience of Dr. Moore. His subject will be, "Showing Your Faith." It promises fair to be an interesting one. Be there, and have your friends attend with you.

Several of our members attended the lecture and organ recital at the Church of Our Father in Detroit Tuesday evening.

The Ladies' Union held a most delightful meeting, with lunch, at the pleasant home of Mrs. Sarah Chamberlin last week Friday. The next time they convene, Thursday afternoon, October 18, with Mrs. Mary Crosby. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested to attend these enjoyable affairs, made so by the untiring efforts put forth by the faithful members who make up the Ladies' Union.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to friends and neighbors for their kindest and sympathy in our late bereavement, in the death of mother, also for the floral tributes.

Mrs. Jennie Zingelmann and Brothers and Sisters.

Free delivery of mail began at Plymouth last Monday.
