A very pleasant evening was spent last Friday at the A. J. Fickett residence by about 25 of the schoolmates of Miss Pauline Fickett, where a "barn party" and marsh mallow roast was given by the young lady. The upper part of the Fickett barn was decorated and lighted with lanterns, where games were played, later all assembling in the back yard where a huge bonfire was burning, over which the young people roasted their marsh mallows, and related experiences and stories. A fine time was reported.

You are asked to spend wisely—to buy only the things honestly needed to maintain your health and efficiency. This is intelligent thrift. The Government asks it of you as a war measure. :

Bonds Are Not A Burden, But A Blessing

Thrift requires the exercise of restraint and self-denial—qualities without which you cannot achieve the success in life which it is your ambition to achieve and for the lack of which you are likely to suffer in later years.

The money you acquire by thrift you are asked to loan—not give—to your country. It will come back to you when you may need it far more than you do now, and you will be paid interest for its use.

This war is a frightful thing, but it may prove of inestimable benefit to you, if it teaches you the good habit of thrift.
