THE RED CROSS

By EDGAR A. GUEST.

I AM too old to share the light;
Too many years have come and gone
Since first I saw the morning light.
My youth has been and traveled on,
I am too old to join the line.
Far-flung today that youth shall live,
I may not die for what is fine,
But I am not too old to give.
I am not yet so old that I
Have drifted from the world apart
I still can hear the helpless cry,
And mercy still can reach my heart.
I still can share from day to day
The burden that our youth must bear,
And I thank God that I can say
The Red Cross is my symbol there.
I am too old to bear a lance,
Across the shell-torn Flanders' field
I may not go where troops advance
And death's grim terrors are revealed;
But I can hear the helpless call,
And I can serve them while I live;
And I thank God that through it all
I shall not be too old to give.
