CHURCH NOTES
Salem Evangelical
Rev. A. C. Stange will preach next Sunday morning at 10:45, eastern time, in the Clarenceville German church.
The Farmington Ladies Aid meets on the first Wednesday of each month at the parsonage.

Methodist Church
Rev. James Priestley, Minister.
The reopening services last Sunday were greatly enjoyed. Dr. C. W. Baldwin, of Detroit, was the morning preacher, and his sermon on the theme "The Lord is in His Temple," was a strong and helpful message. The pastor preached to a good sized congregation in the evening on the subject, "Christ's Cross or the Kaiser's?" After a brief statement by the pastor at the morning service, Dr. Baldwin took charge of the raising of the "Emergency Fund," and in a short time secured $650.00, with more to follow. During the day the choir rendered a number of choice anthems.

The Women's Home Missionary society will meet on Tuesday afternoon, July 9th, at the home of Miss Mary Lee. The topic for the meeting is "Mushing" and "Panning." Mrs. Reading is the leader of the meeting. Every member should be present.
These are busy, trying days and there is no more helpful place to be than these times than at the Sunday morning hour of worship. Sunday morning, besides a special word to the children, the pastor will bring a real worth while message to the older folks.

We expect you to Sunday school next Sunday. It is the beginning of a new quarter, and also Missionary Sunday. During the quarter our lessons are on the theme "Studies in the Christian Life." Sunday's lesson is from John 1: 35-51; Acts 16: 13-34, the subject being "Beginning the Christian Life." "Come one, come all," is our invitation.
The evening service, at 7:30, we hope to make a very profitable hour. A few Sunday evenings ago the coolest place in town was at our evening service. Come over and try it. Sunday evening's message will be worth hearing.
Prayer meeting Thursday evening at 7:30. Don't fail to be in your place.

Newberry and Preparedness
Truman H. Newberry is no new convert to Preparedness. He has preached it for twenty years,—he has practiced what he preached.
He stood for preparedness away back in 1896, when he helped organize the Michigan Naval Brigade.
As Assistant Secretary of the Navy under Roosevelt he urged preparedness. Speaking in New Orleans in 1907, he said:
" You can put it in the biggest type you have that we must have a bigger navy, and I hope such enlargement will come soon. It is for you people here to use your influence for more appropriations for the building of battleships and cruisers. There is no doubt that we shall need them and the sooner they are built the better."
While Secretary of the Navy, Newberry contended for a Merchant Marine as a preparedness measure.
" A large number of merchant vessels will be required in the event of a serious war," he pleaded.
He not only talked preparedness, but he prepared.
He put the Navy on a new foundation. On our entry into the war it was the one branch of our national defense which was prepared.
He backs up his belief in preparedness by being in the service himself. His sons are in the service. His whole family is serving.
Newberry and Preparedness mean the same thing.
Truman H. Newberry is prepared to give Michigan and the nation wonderful service in the United States Senate.
