It stirs every American heart

Who was not thrilled to read of the American soldier who supported a wounded comrade, and fought his way with the little detachment back through the Boches to the American lines?
That is only one deed of heroism among the many happening every day and looked on as a matter of course by the boys fighting for us over there. It shows the stuff that's in them. They are our own sons and brothers. Is the same stuff in us over here?
We have the opportunity at home to show our patriotism by other deeds of valor. We can fight and we MUST fight. And we must WIN, no matter how heavy our burdens may be.
Our former habits are the Hun's we've got to battle with. We can't go on living as we used to. We can't go on spending our money for things we like. We must set up new standards—war standards—and stick to them—loyally.

From now on there can be only one standard for those of us who fight behind the lines—by saving and lending

Does Such an American Exist?

Can there be any American who is not doing all he can to help win the war? Who pretends to believe that we could have kept out?
Who whines or growls about the little sacrifice he is asked to make?
Who gets panicstricken and thinks that it would be better to compromise with the Hun and listens to the serpent whisperings of German propaganda?
If such an American exists let him realize what Germany has done to Russia, which gave in and negotiated a cowardly peace.
There is only one thing for us all today and that is war to the bitter end—war until the Hun is utterly and completely destroyed.

For those who cannot fight, LIBERTY BONDS are the best possible weapons against the Hun.

Ladies Literary Club.
The Ladies' Literary club met Wednesday afternoon with Una Ely.
The subject for the ensuing year is "Panama." The first papers, "Columbus' Quest, for the Secret of the Strait," by Florence Moore, and "Balboa's Discovery of the Pacific," by Zaida Steele, proved interesting bits of history.
Miss Hard gave a short talk on "Queen Isabella of Spain." Minnie Wilber interested her listeners with descriptions of her visit to the Pacific coast, and Agnes Chamberlain told of her delightful visit to the Atlantic.
The members of the club wish every one in the community to respond to the call from the government for the gathering of pits from the peach, cherry, prune, plum and date; all covered in nut shells, and the hard shell from our local nuts—the walnut, hickory nut and butternut. It seems an ingredient is derived from these articles which is necessary for the completion of the gas mask.
Dry the pits and shells thoroughly, either in the sun or in a warm oven, and then put them in the receptacle placed in front of Cook & Co.'s Hardware store, for that especial purpose, and they will speedily get to your Uncle Sam.
This is a small thing to do, but the results are large.
Auction Sale
F. Mason, on the Carl Naback farm 1/2 mile east of Conroy's stop, on D. U. R., will sell at auction a quantity of stock, hay, grain, etc., on Friday, September 27th, at 1 p. m., John Wedow, auctioneer.

The Priscilla club will meet next Tuesday with Mrs. Leon Green as Mrs. Lopley is packed up preparatory to moving.

Mr. and Mrs. Forest Pierson and family, and Miss Galbraith, cook dinner and spent the evening Tuesday with the Misses Zaida and Ida Steele.
Next Tuesday evening Mrs. Johnson's Sunday school class is to meet at her house. Every girl is asked to be present, as the class is to be reunited.
A big double drive government truck with a trailer loaded with six and one-half tons of "pig iron," on a 1,000-mile test drive went into the ditch just south of the blacksmith shop Monday noon, and it required about an hour's hard work to get them up into the road and started on their way.
The Queen Esthers will meet at Mrs. Roos' next Wednesday, after school, to make scrap books, which will be sent as Christmas presents to the poor children's homes. Every member is asked to buy a yard of cambric, out of which the books are to be made. The next regular meeting will be on the second Wednesday of October. Any girl over or nearly 14 is especially urged to join.
