

WAYNE JONES SAYS...

Is your home still waiting for landscaping? If you are the do-it-yourself type, but need professional help with your plan, bring us the dimensions of your home, and let us help you. This is a free service for our customers.

Here is a typical home on a 60' lot. You can choose the budget size plants or larger ones, and plant them yourself. We can plant them for you at an additional labor cost.

The Green Thumb

By GEORGE ABRAHAM

Check for leaf miners: Home gardeners who try to grow birch trees and other ornamentals are likely by the leaf miner pest, it not only attacks birch, but flowering plants such as chrysanthemums, snapdragons and columbines.

They damage the plants by eating the tissue between the upper and lower surfaces of the leaves. Damage is done by the maggot (larva of a small fly) which feeds on the green parts, leaving serpentine, winding trails, or large white blotches which eventually turn brown. Leaves are weakened and the mines serve as points where disease and decay may start.

Control: For the home gardener who wants to protect birch trees, the simplest way to check the miner is to apply a systemic material, one applied to the soil. This is taken up by the plant and carried into the sapstream. As soon as an insect gets a taste of the chemical it's quickly killed. One advantage to using systemic is that there is no chance to endanger the life of birds or animals, as happens when plants are sprayed.

SUN FLOWERS are easy: Right now about all the care sunflowers need is plenty of moisture and hot weather. When the temperature rises, the heads are apt to droop, but this is nothing serious. Upon watering, the heads will freshen right up.

Sunflowers have few if any insects or diseases to trouble them. Sometimes aphids (giant lice) will be troublesome, but if you spray with malathion or nicotine sulfate, you won't have any trouble.

The big problem is mildew or rotting of the seed. Prevent this by picking the heads when seeds first start to ripen (just before they start to shed) and hang them upside down in any dry place. Better still, dry them off quickly by placing heads in front of an electric fan to drive off the moisture.

FREE: Want to know more about sunflowers, and how to use the seeds? Send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for a copy of my bulletin, All About Sunflowers. It tells how to prepare pumpkin dishes, sunflower seed recipes that will make your mouth water.

GREEN THUMB CLINIC: A reader writes: "Please tell us if we should buy hybrid angle worms to put in our garden. We used an insecticide last year and I'm afraid they were all killed off."

Answer: I doubt if the insecticide completely eliminated the worms. I wouldn't spend money buying hybrid earthworms, because so far as I know there isn't any such thing. The kind of worms in your soil now are good enough and if you add compost, clippings, etc., you'll have all the earthworms you need.
