Dems select 8 from area

A psychology professor, two full-time politicians and two attorneys are among the at-large delegates from suburban Michigan Democrats are sending to their national convention next week in New York City.

In the Observer & Eccentric circulation area, five persons from Oakland County communities and none from western Wayne County will be in the 25-member at-large portion of the 125-member state delegation.

The suburban contingent includes five delegates and three alternates. They were picked recently by the Democratic State Central Committee, governing body of the organization between conventions.

DELEGATES at-large will include:

Morley Winograd of Troy, uncommitted. Now chairman of the Michigan Democratic Party. Winograd, 53, was in the laboratory business when he was chairman of the Oakland County Democratic Committee.

Juanita Collier of Farmington Hills, for Jimmy Carter. "As a clinical psychologist at Wayne State University, my major concern is the suggesting of humanistic models for infusion in our governmental process," she said.

Mr. Collier, 43, has been active in the 17th Congressional District organization. Mary Novak Meyers of Troy, for Carter. Mrs. Meyers, 38, was deputy campaign manager for Carter's Michigan effort in which the former Georgia governor picked up nearly half the May 18 vote. She is a member of the Democratic State Central Committee and Women's Caucus and is active in local party politics.

Robert F. Niederlander, Birmingham, for Carter. An attorney and University of Michigan regent, Niederlander, 43, is a member of the family that owns the Fair Theater. He was Carter's finance chairman in Michigan and helped in the national Carter campaign.

Stuart F. Hertzberg, Bloomfield Hills, for Morris Udall. An attorney, Hertzberg, 48, has been a top party financial leader for 13 years and has been a national convention delegate five times in the past.

ALTERNATES from the area are:

Patricia Anderson, 33, of Southfield, for Carter. A state-wide Carter volunteer coordinator. Mrs. Anderson lists her occupation as wife and mother.

Donald F. Tucker, 39, Birmingham, for Udall. Active in past campaigns of Sen. Philip Hart and presidential nominee George McGovern. Tucker is a member of the party's finance committee.

Eugene W. Kutty, 45, Orchard Lake, for Udall. The party's nominee for Oakland County executive in 1974. Kutty has long been active in county Democratic politics and was a national convention delegate in 1964 and 1968.

Regional Roundup

CLINTON CELEBRATION

Blacks, whites and convicts from great old Rochester will form their respective ranks in Rochester State Park July 14 in a celebratory marking successful cleanup efforts along the Clinton River.

All residents will meet at Second Street near Parent Creek in Rochester and branch out into groups meeting in the park for a bring-your-own picnic lunch, sponsored by the Clinton River Watershed Council.

Demonstrations and discussions focusing on proper use and upkeep of the river will be led by representatives in the fishing, canoeing and hiking areas. A watershed council display of the variety of recreational opportunities in the river also will be exhibited.

FINANCIAL RELIEF

The Farmington School District could qualify for almost $40,000 in additional state aid as a result of a clause in the school aid bill passed by the state house of representatives last week. The district would receive approximately an extra $90 per pupil. The formula is based on declining enrollment.

LARSEN ELECTED PREXY

Southfield Board of Education Tuesday elected Kenneth Larsen president of the board by a 4-3 vote. Larsen, a board member since 1961, faced Walter Johnson, last year's vice-president, as his opponent. Johnson was elected secretary. Robert Schwarz was elected vice-president, and Dr. Harold Blawie was elected treasurer.

RIGHT NUMBER, WRONG HOME

If you have ever read your telephone book other than to look up a number, you have learned that your telephone number when preceded by your area code is the only one like it in the United States or Canada.

The first thing some people do when they get a new telephone directory each spring is to make sure their listing is correct.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Marland Comb of Birmingham never did that before, but they will from now on because the number following their name in the April 1978 directory belongs to a family in Oak Park.

The most frustrating part for the family in Oak Park is when people call and refuse to believe they had not reached the Comb, insisting that they had called the number in the book.

FESTIVE FESTIVAL

This year's ethnic festival was an even bigger success than expected. An estimated 9,000 to 10,000 Troy residents jammed Athens High School to enjoy the festivities. Among the attractions were ethnic foods and entertainment—including dancing to a polka band. The festival was a success. Its main goal of organizing various ethnic groups to preserve their cultural heritage and share it with others was achieved.

CABIN TO GO

The West Bloomfield Township Board has decided to demolish remains of a log cabin in Pleasant Lake subdivision following failure of its absentee owner to show cause why it should not be destroyed. Demolition costs will be charged to the owner.

QUIET CAMPAIGN

With a city council election less than a month away, campaigning in Orchard Lake is definitely low key. No posters are exhibited and no city-wide meetings have been noticed.

Voters will decide Aug. 3 on four residents to fill council seats vacated by a May 18 recall.

In the interim, four appointees of Gov. William Milliken are filling the posts.

Police chiefs seek tornado alert

In order to eliminate the confusion resulting from neighboring communities using different siren warning systems to alert the public of impending tornado danger, the South Oakland County Association of Chiefs of Police recently adopted a resolution urging local governments to seek a uniform warning system.

The association proposed a three-minute siren, easily recognized by residents which would be sounded only upon notification from the United States Weather Bureau of a tornado warning.

A tornado warning is issued only after a tornado has been sighted.
