

Moral perspectives

Returning to the death penalty would be a step backwards that, whatever it does, does claim and the moral and religious foundations of our laws.

Catholic lay group plans convention

J. Edward Lundy of Dearborn is the General Chairman of the state convention. Peter J. Kernan of Grosse Pointe is district governor of the Michigan Serra Clubs, and Robert J. Bauchst of Novi is president of the Dearborn Serra Club. Persons interested in attending the convention may call or write Father Gerard Brennan, St. Joseph Rectory, 14101 Rosedale Drive, Dearborn.

THE CURRENT SUPPORT for the death penalty grows out of frustration and fear rather than from evidence that it deters crime or that it rests upon effective moral and religious belief.

The death penalty would be a destructive response born out of frustration, anger and a desire for vengeance. The root causes of crime need to be attacked by U.S. state and citizens in a positive way.
