

The modern trend toward conventional calls is an effort toward accuracy. Bids have an exact meaning. Each bid and response attempts a precise description.

The hand in the diagram is an example of an old-fashioned natural bidding sequence. The final notrump contract ignored a powerful major suit fit.

North had good playing values but no reason to open anything except one heart. South pressed a little to show good values and heart support. North could have checked for aces, but a negative response would have cooled any enthusiasm. Many pairs tried this route and quit at four or five hearts.

One North player cude bid the spade suit. South was Dr. Carl Belten, a frequent participant of local club games. He had no ace to show and it seemed three notrump was a natural description of his holding.

North was disappointed that South did not have the club ace, but after a moment's thought realized that South must have values in most suits. Further the clubbing in South's hand made six notrump a better contract than six hearts.

Declarer had little problem. The key is the diamond finesse. When this succeeded, 12 tricks were secure.

GERVAIS' customers prefer...

...our coats when they compare Quality, Styling and Price. They notice greater fullness, superior workmanship and perfect fit. Since we produce most coats on the premises, we are not bound by the whims of manufacturers. And, working with skins we ourselves purchase at auction, we eliminate skin dealers' as well as manufacturers' profits.
