Veterans events due at fair

Lou Jacobe' big red nose, pointed head and outsized grin has appäired on Ringling Bros. and Barrum & Bailey Gircus posters for almost 30 years and is probably the most famous and imitated clown face in America. Known for his ridiculous motorized bathab and the world's smallest motorized car, the veteran funnyman appears with the show during its 12-day engagement at Ohmpia Stadium.

Yankee Doodle circus

The circus is coming with a rousing sa-lute to the 200th birthday of the U.S., bring-ing its Yankee Doodle Dandy barrage of performers, animals, jesters and produc-tion spectaculars to Detroit's Olympia Sta-dium from Sept. 21 through Oct. 3.

Ringling Bros and Barmum and Balley Orcus celebrates the country's bicenten-nial year with a tat-pagaged 160th Ed-tion, featuring animal trainer. Gunther Gebb-Williams, trapeze artists the Flying Farfare, the Carrillo Brothers who par-ticulated the Harrico State American development of the Country of the Country of the Latency and Sa Armational sects making their American debut

Highlighted by five productions, the Bi-centennial Edition opens with a "Stars and Stripes Salute," invising children of all ages to a circus jambore. It's up, up and away in "Supersonic Countdown," a sakute to American air supremacy, while the "Oricus Sprint of 1%" brings 200 years of American history to life.

Tickets are on sale at Olympia, Olympia Travel and Montgomery Ward stores. For more information call 895-7000.

TODAY IN HISTORY.

Exactly 1500 years ago Augustus Teds saw the Fall Of The Roman Empire.

What a grand reason to come to Ted's.

Circle your calendar for dinner at Ted's glorious Old Town Inn. It was on August 28 AD 476 that Romulus Augustulus gave the key to the Roman Empire to the invading barbarians. 1500 years ago and a date worth commemorating at Ted's.

What we're really saying is that any old excuse will do if you need a reason to enjoy a smooth cocktail and great dining at Ted's famous Old Town Inn. And entertainment! The best: the mellow sounds of The Loving Cup continues in Gataby's.
