

Handicrafters called

The Farmington Area Jayettes are renting table space to all handicrafters in the area who want an opportunity to display and sell their crafts.

The second time the group is taking advantage of the opportunity to display and sell their crafts is in the Christmas season last year.

Table for the sale has been set for Nov. 11, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Farmington High School.

All handicrafters are welcome to participate with a total of 40 tables up for hire. Tables will be rented to crafters at $12 for a single table and $20 for double tables.

Participants will set their own prices, arrange their own displays, handle their own sales and keep all profits. There is no limit on table rental.

The Jayettes will handle publicity, and will have coffee and sandwiches available for guests during the sale hours for a nominal charge.

Jayette profits are earmarked for vocational scholarships and food baskets for the needy, both annual community service projects of the group.

Mrs. William Reed, 2219 Brookside will have table reservations and answer questions concerning the sale at 477-2517.

Ware-LaLoe

Rhea La Lone and Charles Ware were married Sept. 17 at the University Hill Christian Reform Church in Farmington. Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald LaLoe of Southfield and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ware of Farmington. Both the bride and bridegroom are 1972 graduates of Southfield High School. He is currently employed by the Chamberlain Real Estate Company in Southfield and she works for the Southfield Crime Prevention Bureau.

After a honeymoon in the western states, the couple will reside in Southfield.

Simmons-Pope

Mr. and Mrs. William Simmons of Farmington Hills announce the engagement of their daughter Patricia J. Simmons to Timothy W. Pope, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ridger of Worthington, Ohio.

She is a graduate of North Farmington High School and attended Northern Michigan University. Her fiance is attending Franklin University in Columbus, Ohio. A December wedding is planned.

Runnige proceeds go for scholarships

Farmington's Municipal annual fall runnige sale is scheduled for Oct. 23 in the B. E. Ford Middle School. Proceeds from the runnige sale will go to the Farmington River at Warner, where the runnige sale will be held. The runnige sale will be held from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. each day.

Mrs. Pollack says thanks

Mary Ann Pollack will give a thank you notice for Rep. William Brookhead at her home Oct. 17 for helping the people in the south end of Farmington Hills.

A case worker for St. Francis Home for Boys in Detroit, Ms. Pollack said, "A major drainage system, finishing of Walden Park, loans, grants for home improvements are just a few of the things he has helped us obtain. We are grateful."

She said she has invited about 40 people who want to meet the man to her Sunday afternoon get-together. She lives at 2906 S. Stockton Drive.
