

At the fair

Rick Steele, who produces his sculptures chiefly from masonry nails, will be one of more than 40 artists and craftsmen coming to the Farmington Community Center's fourth annual arts and crafts fair. The event will be held in the center Oct. 23, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is free.

Trip to opera is planned

The Farmington Community Center has arranged for a bus to take opera goers to see "Madam Butterfly" presented by the Michigan Opera Theatre on Nov. 10. Early reservations are a must, which will be given on a first-come-first-served basis. The perennial opera favorite will be performed in English. Package priced tickets are on sale now in the center.

WIDOWED PERSONS meet in St. Fabian Catholic Church on Twelve Mile between Orchard Lake and Farmington Road at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 21 to hear a program called "Assess Your Abilities."

Jan Kerei, who leads the group, says capitalizing on one's strong points is the key to successful living. Do you wonder if your abilities include entering or reentering the job market or volunteering your services? This month's speaker will address himself to these questions.

All widowed persons are invited to learn some tips on how to decide what they are best suited for and what to do when they find out.
