

3 Counselors Join Faculty At Schoolcraft

LIVONIA Personnel changes on the counseling staff at Schoolcraft College, and the reassignment of the staff member to new duties have been announced by Edward V. McNally, vice-president for student affairs, as the two-year community college prepares for the opening of the 1969-70 academic year. The counseling staff will start the year at its authorized strength of 10 members, an increase of one over the last year.

Of three new counselors who join the staff this year, one will replace a recently resigned member; a second will fill a vacancy of nearly a year caused by another resignation; and the third will, in effect, bring the staff up to authorized strength.

New counselors are Louis E. Rupp, William R. Heise, and Mrs. Sandra Florek.

Another new staff member is Thomas C. Otis who will replace Jean Pike as director of student activities. Miss Pike, who has been reassigned to the Office of Admissions as an admissions counselor, she has been a member of the Schoolcraft staff since the college opened in 1964, serving as counselor and for the past year as director of student activities.

RUPP, COMES TO Schoolcraft from Lakeview High School, in St. Clair Shores, where he was assistant principal for four years. He was a counselor at the high school for eight years prior to being named assistant principal. Rupp received both the bachelor's and masters degrees from Central Michigan University and has taken additional graduate level work at the University of Michigan, University of Detroit, and Michigan State University. Heise is from Stevenson High in Livonia, where he was a counselor for two years. He is a graduate of Eastern Michigan University and received his masters degree from the University of Michigan where he is continuing work on the Ph.D. degree.

Mrs. Florek is a former member of the Schoolcraft counseling staff who resigned a year ago when her husband was transferred to the West Coast. The Florek's recently returned to this area.

Otis is a graduate of Jackson Community College and received his bachelor and master degrees from Eastern Michigan University. He has taken additional graduate work at Kent State University. While at Kent he was assistant director of student activities for two years.

Supervisors Ask Jumbo Jet Report

A progress report on presentations for the new 400-passenger "Jumbo" jets at Metropolitan Airport has been called for by a committee of Wayne County supervisors.

The request was made by the Transportation, Industrial and Commercial Development Committee after questions were raised by a former county supervisor from Plymouth.

The committee, headed by 24th District Supervisor Edmund Bizek, asked for a written report from James M. Davey, managing director of the County Road Commission which operates the airport.

Davey told the committee verbally Aug. 12 that the new Boeing 747 jets are due to start using the airport in late 1970 or early 1971. "The last date we got is probably early 1971," he stated.

IN A LETTER, the former county supervisor, A.E. Vallier of the City of Plymouth, contended that one airline is scheduled to start operating Boeing 747s from Metropolitan Airport on Oct. 1, 1970.

Davey said he had asked Vallier to identify the airline, but Vallier refused. Preparations to accommodate the big jets are part of a $200-million airport expansion and improvement program which includes additional baggage facilities, lengthening of two runways and development of another terminal complex south of the present terminal facilities.

Davey said the current poor market for government bonds has created uncertainties in the scheduling of the improvement program, but that the Road Commission would ask the airlines for advance landing fees if necessary, in order to have the new baggage facilities and longer runways completed in time for the big jets.

THREE OTHER supervisors committees met during the Aug. 11-14 week.

The personnel activities subcommittee, chaired by Dist. 5 Supervisor Freddie G. Burton, considered a list of salary adjustments recommended by the Civil Service Commission to bring various job classes into line with related classes.

In addition, members of the Board of Supervisors made an all-day study tour of the Port of Detroit on Aug. 12. They toured the various cargo terminals in Detroit and the Downriver area by bus, then took a chartered boat to study the All-American channel and the path of the proposed channel extension.

The Health, Education and Welfare Committee, meeting Aug. 11, recommended that the county stop giving emergency grants to welfare recipients in cases where the state will not provide matching money. The action was taken after the committee was informed that a $100,000 appropriation from the board of supervisors has been overexpended by about $250,000 by the Wayne County Office of the Michigan Department of Social Services.

The committee's recommendation was due to come before the powerful Ways and Means Committee on Aug. 18. In recommending the halt, the committee pointed out that welfare is a state responsibility.

The Wayne County Building Authority awarded a contract for design of a $50-bed long-term care facility at Wayne County General Hospital to the architectural firm of Eberly M. Associates, Inc. The authority acted after considering proposals from several architects.
