Histradrut campaign opens in Farmington

Mary Lubin, a member of the Histradrut, is the first in a series of seminars to aid persons in changing careers and a college begins this date at 7 p.m. sponsored by Anderson-Gibson, Inc. Tickets $200. Contact Jane Hill, 427-4400 or 427-4101.

Guest speaker will be Pinhas Elia, deputy permanent representative of Israel to the United Nations.

The campaign goal of $100,000 is earmarked for social welfare and education projects sponsored by Histradrut, the Labor Federation of Israel.

These projects include more than 40 vocational training schools, scholarship for disadvantaged immigrants, community centers and youth centers in development, many hospitals, clinics and children's hospitals for youngsters from broken homes.

Elia will relate Histradrut's role in carrying out the Israeli government's open fence policy along the border with Lebanon. Histradrut-sponsored clinics have treated hundreds of wounded Lebanese seeking aid across the gold fence, as it is known in Israel.

Histradrut, the 36-year-old General Federation of Labor, is the only free trade union movement in the middle east and has strong ties with American labor. The federation has more than 110,000 members, 75 per cent of the population of Israel, including 50,000 Arabs.

Because of the tight economic situation in Israel, Histradrut relies on American supporters to help construct and maintain its network of social welfare agencies.

Inquiries will be taken by calling the Histradrut office, 831-0608.
