Friendship a blend of danceable sounds

Friendship, new group now playing at the top of the French has the makings of a house band for the downtown French nighters. It's expected to stay around three months.

Three Birmingham men are behind the quartet, including bassist vocalist Mark Lathrop, the group leader, Jim Williams on piano and Richard Glenn on drums. Other members of Friendship are Mary Gatten on vocals and guitar and Ron on drums.

The Birmingham guys are all former members of Mail Box and Culture, which has been reformed by Lathrop, who is now with Friendship. He is also singing with the French. This is the first time the group has played together.

Friendship's sound stays with easy listening music. For doing this, the guys are getting their sound from the French. Lathrop, piano, and vocals are the main ingredients. The group is also a good friend to the French.

DANCING is a main attraction at the top of the French and Friendship offers a new twist to the French nighters. The group is now playing at the top of the French.
