Where It's At

By JUDY SOLOMON

Hamming it up

Beside's being super delicious, this honey-baked ham eliminates cooking and carving chores. It features a patented method of slicing the meat around and around the bone in a spiral pattern so that the slices remain in place. Any cut made lengthwise releases the perfectly cut slices. These hams are trimmed of excess fat and skin and then baked for 20 hours with a glaze made from a delightful combination of three blends of honey. You may purchase half a ham (ranging from six to nine pounds) or a whole ham (ranging from 12 to 15 pounds) at $2.19 per pound. While hams are always in stock, it is best to order two weeks in advance during the holiday season. Honey Baked Ham Co., 1681 E. Long Lake Road, Troy, 689-4829

Your own finger tips

This Personalized Yellow Pages book is a handy, time-saving item to keep on your desk. It's a spiral, indexed notebook containing classifications for just about everything under the sun, from doctors to dentists, plumbers to piano tuners, service stations to stockbrokers and even exterminators and recycling centers. It would make a thoughtful gift too. Lee Specialty, 4068 W. Maple (one block east of Telegraph), Birmingham, 644-3444

Williamsburg Christmas

Janet Wood and Pat Bentley will decorate the inside of your home for Christmas in the 18th century Williamsburg tradition, utilizing your choice of fresh or permanent fruits and greens. While the price varies according to labor and materials, they will be glad to give free estimates. You may also order permanent wreaths and centerpieces for the holiday season. Orders must be placed by Dec. 1. Fruitful Endeavors, 646-8910

Wonder full

Daisy Dowling Antiques is a treasure chest of interesting collectibles. Among the goodies you'll find there are sturdy Vermont wooden toys ($5 to $80), old patchwork pillows ($8.50 to $10), unusual birdcages, antique quilts, new appliqued crib quilts and patchwork Christmas stockings ($8.50 to $12.50). Daisy Dowling Antiques, 21 N. Main, Clarkston, 625-3122.
