

Daughters of Vartan

Fantasy to spark winter lunch

By SHIRLEE IDEN

A little bit of fantasy is a fine thing to introduce in the midst of winter doldrums.

That's the philosophy of the Daughters of Vartan who will sponsor a Fantasy Luncheon and Fashion Show at noon on Feb. 8 at St. John's Armenian Church in Southfield.

Winter social events are not an innovation for the group, which has successfully undertaken the luncheons for a number of years, according to Mrs. Vera Kazanjian of Farmington Hills.

Mrs. Kazanjian along with Mrs. Rose Kazanjian of West Bloomfield and Mrs. Alice Safinian and Mrs. Ruby Yagobian of Lathrup Village are co-chairpersons of the annual event.

"The Daughters of Vartan are like a sisterhood at St. John's," said Mrs. Safinian. "We have quite a large membership and meet once a month. We are a charitable, educational and cultural group really."

Mrs. Kazanjian said the group benefits a number of different charities as they hear of needs arising. "The proceeds of this luncheon will go to the club's treasury, basically for charitable works and educational projects."

THE LUNCHEON WILL be accompanied by the music of Dan Vessian and his Armenian musicians, but the menu this year is a secret.

"We wanted to be different this time, so we'll keep the menu a surprise," Mrs. Safinian said.

Most of the day's fantasy will be provided in the program which is a fashion show by Alvin's.

"We chose the name 'fantasy' from an article in Women's Wear Daily," Mrs. Safinian said. "They wrote about how to put a little fantasy into your wardrobe."

Fashion commentator Margery Stearns will describe a complete array of fashions from casual and leisure outfits to glamorous after-dark creations.

An enticing variety of door prizes will be awarded to many of the participants.

Reservations and tickets are available by calling Mrs. Agnes Dourjanian at 837-3246. The donation is $6.50.

METRO DETROIT CONSUMER FOOD COUNCIL™

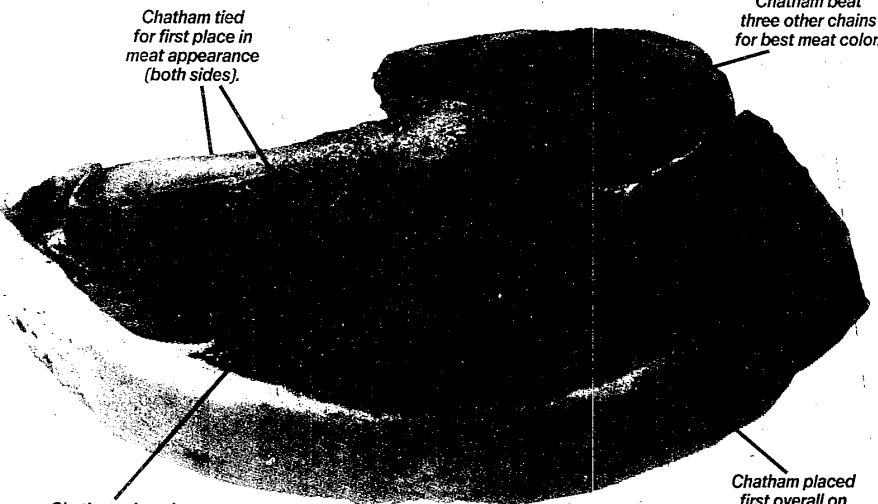

"We rated sirloin steaks from all five supermarket chains on color, fat trimming, texture and marbling, overall appearance and lowest price. Here are the results."

Actual test results are available by writing to Consumer Food Council, 2300 E. 10 Mile Rd., Warren, Michigan 48091.

CHATHAM BEATS COMPETITION IN TEST OF STEAK QUALITY AND VALUE.

(Winner in 3 categories, tied in 1, second in 1.)

Chatham tied for first place in meat appearance (both sides).

Chatham beat three other chains for best meat color.

Chatham placed first for texture and marbling.

Chatham placed first overall on trimming of excess fat.

Chatham's average prices were the lowest overall of the five major chains.

All 12 Consumer Food Council members bought a sirloin steak at each of Detroit's five major chains for a total of 60 steaks. They rated their purchases on a scale of 1 to 10. The results were averaged, and Chatham steaks came out best overall for quality and value. No wonder Chatham sells more meat per store than any other supermarket chain in town.

If you would like to be a Council member, write: Metro Detroit Consumer Food Council, 2300 E. 10 Mile Rd., Warren, MI 48091.
