about the season. Both the Andover boys and girls won their respective division championships. If one of the boys had not falten down during the regional, they may have also qualified for the state finals. The same fate almost befell the Baron girls. Carolyn Eliloit, Andover number 5 girl racer (each learn counts the best four of six times), was the final Andover girl to compete. Two tearnmates had disqualified by failing to finish the race.

"I told her." McMullen said. "that her main objective was to stay up. I figured her time would take care of itself. Fortunately, that's just what she did."
"Our main objective at the beginning of the season was to qualify for the state finals." McMullen said. "This is what we have accomplished. Anything that we do from here is icing on the cake. All I hope for is that my girls do their best and as a team we finish strong."

WEST BLOOMFIELD'S boys qualified behind the fine performance of Will Wottowa. He placed fourth in the slalom and tied for third in the glant slalom. Five other local individual skiers qualified by placing among the top three in the individual events. They are Tom Quinn and Debbie Lieb of Labser. Sue Kandarian of Rochester Adams.
