

The beloved "Wizard of Oz" will come to life again in the Farmington Community Center April 2, produced by Cecil Orman's class of junior high school students. Members in the cast are Beth Rounda, (at left) as the Scarecrow; Lisa Hane, as the Tin Man and Lori Young as Dorothy. They console the Cowardly Lion, played by Kathy Klein. There will be two performances, at 1 and 3 p.m. Admission is $1.

Lenten series closes with Donald Strobe

Dr. Donald B. Strobe, pastor of First United Methodist Church in Ann Arbor, will deliver a Lenten message at 7:30 p.m. March 27, in Nardin Park United Methodist Church, 2887 Eleven Mile.

The message will be the third and concluding service in a Lenten series presented by the Larger Parish Council of United Methodist Churches in the Farmington-West Bloomfield area.

Strobe has been pastor of the Ann Arbor church since 1972. He is a graduate of Albion College and Garrett Theological Seminary, and was awarded the doctor of divinity degree by Albion.

He has served in various positions of leadership on boards and committees of Methodism and related institutions, in the area of missions, education, evangelism and ecumenical affairs.

DR. DONALD B. STROBE

He authors articles appearing regularly in Christian Advocate, Pulpit Digest and Master Sermon Series.

His published book is "Faith Under Fire: Challenges to the Church in a Changing World." He has been a delegate to three world Methodist conferences.
