JEROME'S

11 Mile Road & Lahser

Southfield, Michigan

bert, coming around to a general agreement with Doug Hoffman

Dominating spring leisurewear, he noted, will be separates in bright, sharp colors with natural looks and colors. The rugby influence is strong in T-shirts knitted of cotton, acrylics and terry cloth. The madras influence is important and there will be many dish cloth fabrics, voiles and a few silk-look jacquards

Pleated slacks and walking shorts will make a strong comeback in a variety of length and stylings

Outerwear will be lightweight and practical with jackets using chintz, chino, nylon denim and parachute. Lightweight suedes will be there for the luxury-minded

There'll be many routes to comfort this spring

The colors are navy, green and ombred orange in this boucle knit pullover by Collageman. The blend is silk and acrylic, and there's a fishnet insert at the drawstring waist and around the armholes.
