The death of Colonel Theodore Rooseyelt, at his home at Sagmore Hill, Oyster Bay, Jast Monday morning came to the country—and to the entire world—as a great sheek, although his death was not unexpected.

Colone Roosevelt perhaps had more friends and more enemies than any other man living, all of whom could not help but admire him as the personification of an "American."

From practical obscurity he rose to the highest position and honor the nation—in "fact the world—had to bestow. He was the ideal American, a practical man, stannch and honest in his convictions and policies. When the was a stident, hunter, explorer, writer, sbldier—in fact a practical ali-around man. Even up to the time of his death he was perhaps the most talked of private citizen in the United States.

Assinated in Milwaukee several years ago when about to make a political speech; he went through with his address under the pain of two proken ribs, such was his determination and grit. He was a most profound believer—and liver of a clean, honest life, and hon matter what his enemies thought of him they could not get away from his great personality, and the fact that he was a "champion of irght and justice and a tireless opponent of wring, both in private and public life.

FARMEN'S. ACCOUNT BOOKS

opponent of wrong, both in private and public life.

FARMER'S. ACCUNTI BOOKS
A method, which it is believed will lighten the book keeping roblems of the average farmer, has beer evolved by the office of farm management of the Michigan Agricultural rollege. The department, it is announced from the college, has published a book for the keeping of farm accounts simplified in a way that will enable the farmer to introduce methods of efficiency in book keeping without having to devote more than a minute or two a day to the lask. The new books fit the farming business in the same manner that other specialized; systems fit other. Businesses.

In the new books there is no part, except the actual daily record, which cannot be left until a slack season, like mid-winter, for classifying land summarizing. The present is a good time to commence the keeping of farm records, for the first of the year is fast becoming the standard season for the taking of inventories and summarizing of last year's results.

The books, according to the announcement from the college, can be obtained for a small fee (cost) from the counties where there are no agents.

A war record of every boy going from Farmington township is being compiled for future reference, and for the county records. We will publish the list when completed and if you find any name missed we urge you to notify us at once, as it is desired ithat every boy's name and record be secured.

This is the time to put out a piece of suct where the birds will find it, before the bad storins come. You will enjoy your own breakfast better when you see our little feathered friends feasting.—Ex.

THE FARMER'S TRUCK

the FORD ONE-TON TRUCK may well be classed as an Agricultural necessity. If fits into and fills so many wants on the farm. It is a reliable bearer of farm burdens, not only doing the work of several horses quicker and better than the horse, and does not "eat its head off" when not working. The aggressive farmer has only to consider the possibilities of the FORD TRUCK and he is ready to buy one. We judge this to be so by TRUCK and he is ready to buy one. the way farmers are buying them.

We are now in a position to deliver all types of FORD CARS and TRUCKS, and would be pleased to place your order at once. Come in and see u and get acquainted, Do it today,
