PROGRESSIVE ENTERTAINMENT

Supper and Program Last Friday Night Netted Class About $120

The Progressive Bible Class of the M. E. Sunday school, whose supper and entertainment last Friday evening was a huge success, although the weather for a time threatened to put a damper on the attendance, but the storm passed and the crowd at both supper and entertainment was a record breaker, producing $144, leaving after expenses were paid, about $120 clear.

The entertainment was certainly a good one and did credit to Farmington talent, demonstrating that when Farmington people undertake to give "home talent," it is "worth while," and enjoyed by all.

The music was good, the acting good and the talks by Lieut. Harley Warner and Priv. Hugo Schaeper were very interesting, and everyone enjoyed hearing of their experiences "over there."

Special mention perhaps should be made of the "gun drill" by Master Warner Neal, little 4-year-old son of Editor and Mrs. Frank Neal, of Northville, who went through the drill with precision and ease, much to the enjoyment of the audience.

Prosecutor's Report

George Natchoff, the Bulgarian who was convicted of attempt to murder Pete Gordonoff on the 22nd of November, 1918, was sentenced by Judge Rockwell to Marquette prison for the rest of his natural life. William Cooper and Henry Gilliam, the two colored men who were with William Reed when Joseph Piran was shot in an attempt to hold up a Romanian pool room in the city of Pontiac December 20th, were each sentenced to from 5 years to 10, the former being sent to Jackson and the latter to Ionia.

Frank Becker, who plead guilty to a charge of burglary was sentenced to Jackson prison for 2½ to 15 years. He was convicted by his plea of guilty to breaking into the home of H. C. Steibohr, in Milford.

Jack C. Perkins, who was arrested on a statutory charge, was allowed, on the recommendation of assistant prosecutor, A. F. Blakeslee, to enter a plea of guilty to a lesser offense, and was sentenced by Judge Rockwell to a period of from 5 years to 10 years at Jackson prison.

Owing to the finding of the supreme court that Act 161 of the Public Acts of 1917 was unconstitutional, on motion of Glenn C. Gillespie, prosecuting attorney, the following cases based on that act, were nolle prossed: People vs. Pete Rivis, Nick Kristoff, Theodore Gates, Charles F. Kieseling, and F. L. Peters.

Amica Girls

A very successful meeting was held by the Sunday school class of Mrs. Mary Johnson. The girls met at her home, and as there was not a very large number, the meeting was made a social meeting, as well as business. The name Amica Girls, was chosen for the class, Amica meaning friends.

A play is to be given by the class March 28th; also a new vice-president and treasurer were elected, they being Dorothy Wixom and Vivian Hazelton.

After the meeting the game "Peanut Race" was played and the girls were ready to leave for their homes, each feeling more encouraged and ready for God's work.

Throughout the length and breadth of the United States and Canada, the "Methodist Missionary Centenary" is being heralded in every corner, nook and crevice. An army of recruits are busy day and night, explaining to the people of the country that the church has awakened and is launching a program of religion.

The financial phase of the Centenary provides for the raising of $120,000,000 during the first week in May. This money is to be used in spreading the gospel of "democracy, eternal peace and Christian Fellowship. It is to be used in putting the church on a business basis and lifting it into its logical position as a leader in the civic, social, political and religious activities of the community.

This great campaign for world redemption and reconstruction has been styled the Centenary in commemoration of the initial activity of the first Methodist missionary, who started his work among the Indians of Ohio just 100 years ago.

Eggs seem to be on the decline. Bless the old hen. She does certainly help out in the cost of living. We remember an old citizen now dead, gone and forgotten, who always said eggs were not cheap enough to eat if they cost over 12c per dozen. He would not bite at 14, 13 or any price until they came down to 12c per dozen and then down town he would argue with his basket and buy five dozen for 60c and feel that he was getting his money's worth. "The Man Hunt"

At the Farmington theatre next Saturday night Ethel Clayton, one of the most charming film artists, will present "The Man Hunt," a delightful comedy, in a modern girl secures a husband suited to her position. The drama is folded with a lot of surprises and with a characterization that is exceptionally good. The scenic effects are superb, many of the scenes having been taken in the mountains in the midst of winter. "The Man Hunt," is the sort of picture that makes you glad you're alive and able to see such exceptional productions as this one.

The addition of a new machine a couple of weeks ago gives a good, steady picture, with no breaks in the reels, and you can enjoy the evening.

The crowds are increasing every Saturday night and all seemed pleased with their entertainment.
