TWO BAD ACCIDENTS

One Car Struck by Interurban and Another Ran off Embankment

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wendell, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Jones and George Harris, of Detroit, were driving from the city to Fish Lake, near New Hudson, when they were struck by a D. U. R. car as they were crossing the tracks from the cement road to the old Farmington road at Stevens' Corners, throwing the occupants some 20 feet and badly injuring all, besides demolishing the car.

There were four auto loads in the party that was made up to spend the day at Fish Lake, and as the head machine drove onto the tracks of the D. U. R. they were struck, Mrs. Wendell sustaining a bad cut on the top of the head and bruised about the body, while Mr. Wendell was thrown against a fence and his leg torn open by coming in contact with a nail. Mrs. Jones sustained a cut on the side of her head, and did not regain consciousness for a number of hours after the accident, while Mr. Jones had four ribs broken, and was thought to have received internal injuries and Mr. Harris, the driver of the machine, had three ribs broken and was cut and bruised.

The party was taken to the home of Dr. J. A. Miller, who dressed their wounds and reduced the fractures, after which they were taken on cots, in a special car furnished by Supt. John Clark, to Grace hospital, Detroit.

Conflicting stories are told as to who was responsible for the accident, but as near as we can learn it was simply an accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell, we are told have a son in Harper hospital recovering from a recent accident, while Mr. and Mrs. Jones are living with and caring for an invalid mother in the city. On Monday a car containing five people who were coming from the lake, went into the ditch near the Blanchard bridge, west of town, as the result of a "blowout" on one of the tires. Two of the occupants were injured, a lady receiving a broken wrist, while a man sustained a broken arm. They were brought to this village and taken to Harper hospital in Detroit in the Heeny ambulance.

Married Last Week

Last Thursday afternoon at 2:30 Earl Gow and Miss Hester Power were united in marriage at the home of the bride near Northville by Rev. Belles, Presbyterian minister of Northville, in the presence of the immediate relatives of the bride and groom. The home was prettily decorated with white and pink peonies. The bride was attired in a very pretty pearl gray georgette crepe. After the ceremony a delightful supper was served.

The young couple will go to the Carl-Gow farm, where they will be at home to their friends. Miss Power was one of the teachers in our school during past two years, while Mr. Gow is one of our prominent young men, and the Enterprise wishes to join with their many friends in wishing them a long and happy life and prosperity.

The windstorm Sunday practically cut the telephone service of Plymouth from the outside world, destroying a quarter of a mile of one of the most important toll lines in the village. The conservative estimate given out by the telephone company to replace the same will cost $2,500. In order that Plymouth and other towns affected might not be out of service on Monday the telephone line crews worked Sunday night, and communication was restored at 5:30 Monday morning.

Tenth Birthday

Fifty relatives, friends and neighbors were very pleasantly entertained at the home of Joe Graham and wife Wednesday afternoon, June 11th, to celebrate the tenth birthday of their daughter Mildred.

The dining room was very prettily decorated in pink and white crepe paper consisting of chains draped from each corner of the room to the center and pink and white streamers from the center to each corner of the table. These were caught together in the center of the ceiling by a large bow of crepe paper.

The windows of the room were also decorated with chains of pink and white and various bouquets around the room, a very charming effect.

When the lunch was announced each toy or girl found his or her partner by matching colored hearts, which they had previously drawn. The children were seated around one long table, which was very prettily draped with pink and white chains. At each end of the table were bouquets of white peonies and syringas. This, with the pink and white birthday cake, lighted candles, made a very dainty table.

The lunch, which consisted of sandwiches, lemonade, ice cream, cake and candies, was heartily enjoyed by all.

Across one corner of the living room a string was run, to which were attached the names and useful gifts shared upon Mildred by her friends.

After a few more games, farewells were said, each departing to their home feeling that they had enjoyed a very pleasant day.

Operators Visit Northville Monday and Tuesday of this week the telephone company invited its operators from Redford, Plymouth, Farmington, South Lyons, and Northville to attend a conference, held at the Northville Exchange, for the purpose of formulating plans for the organization of a social union among the girls. Mr. Hall, manager of the four last named exchanges, gave a talk to the 40 girls who were present, explaining the object of the union, which is to bring the different exchanges together. Mr. Otis, of Detroit, district traffic chief, was present on the second day of the conference. After the conference each day the girls were taken to the Ambler House and treated to a sumptuous dinner, at the expense of the company.

West Farmington School The eighth grade exercises of School District No. 4, Fractional, will be held in the West Farmington school house this (Friday) evening, June 20th, when an invocation by Rev. E. C. C. An invocation will be followed by Supt. Andrews, of Royal Oak, who will deliver the address, and Commissioner A. L. Craft will present the diplomas.

The class will furnish part of the program, interspersed with plenty of music. The class consists of the following: Dorotha Hiltz, Freddie Maas, Frazer Hiltz, Clinton Roy, Martha Kutz and Howard McCracken. Miss Anna Reissman, teacher.

There will be no admission charged, and a general invitation is extended to all.

Many of our people are getting the camping fever and some are already at the lakes for the heated term to begin. We are going to play safe and stay right here at home and tend to our little office and see others enjoy their outing. Got to do it.—Birmingham Eclectic.

A hundred years ago when the steamship Savannah performed the feat—then as astounding—of crossing the Atlantic, was there anyone mad enough to dream that, exactly a century later, we should be expecting the news that modern cars had crossed it on wings.—Oxford Leader.

Broken in health and spirit, Arthur A. Balwin, the Port Huron fiance of Irma Casler, the 19 year old school teacher, who was shot to death in her school near Saline, in March by Robert Warner, has just returned to New York, and learned for the first time the details of the tragedy that robbed him of the girl, whom he wrote from a hospital in France. "I'll be outliving home soon, to protect you all your life."—Plymouth Mail.

That the Detroit postoffice is rapidly developing a bad state of disorganization goes without saying. Not only are country papers going into the city (clayed from two to five days, but other mail matter coming out is simply handled when convenient. And the worst is yet to come. About next Christmas they will be telling the people of the state through the city papers how they handled the Christmas rush without congestion.—Plymouth Lyon Herald.

The old hotel building at Redford is being torn down to give place to a fine new business block.

The Oakland County Horticultural society will hold its regular meeting at the home of Don Button-Saturday afternoon, June 21st. Prof. Pickford, of the M. A. C., will be present and hold demonstrations in spraying. An automobile trip through the western fruit producing section of Michigan will be discussed. Anyone interested in fruit growing is invited.
