

FRENCH CLEAN UP STREETS OF RUINED REIMS

The view of the Rue Chamy, Reims, shows how the French have made immaculate the streets of the city, though the place itself was made a mass of ruins by the German guns.

VICE PRESIDENT ENCOURAGES THE BOY SCOUTS

Vice President Marshall, addressing the boy scout "living circles" on the steps of the capitol, declared he hoped they will reach a membership of a million to aid in combating Bolshevism. The vice president is at the left center of the picture with his hand on his hip. Several members of the senate and house helped him receive the boys.

HAREM WOMEN MAKE PUBLIC SPEECHES

Exclusive photograph showing native Cairo women addressing a crowd in one of the principal streets of the Egyptian city. The speakers are urging greater patriotism and loyalty to their land. This is the first time that Egyptian women have been permitted freedom of speech in public.

HELPS HUNT TERRORISTS

The work of Dr. Charles E. Sumner, explosives expert in the United States bureau of mines, is expected to be one of the most valuable aids in discovering the bomb terrorists. Once the terrorists establish definitely the material used in the bombs they have a better chance of finding out where they were made.

HEIRESS AND AVIATOR HUSBAND

Alice Gordon Drexel, one of America's greatest heiresses, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Drexel of New York and granddaughter of the late Anthony Drexel of Philadelphia, and Capt. William Barrett, air force, U. S. A., with whom she eloped recently. Their marriage "shocked and surprised" her bride's parents.

THE GENTLE ART OF PAINLESS DENTISTRY

—BY—
DR. R. M. PATTERSON

If you will remember what you read in this column a few days ago, I told you of the various methods used by the modern dentist to alleviate pain. Today I will try to explain to you why dentistry embraces six distinct branches, each requiring a different kind of skill.
 This is an age of specialization. Dentistry is a new science. It has come into being along with electricity, the internal combustion engine, the telephone, the automobile, the airplane, the radio, the motion picture, the wireless telegraph. It is a science that is not fully evolved, but is still in process of evolution. Any dentist who practices now according to methods laid down ten years ago is a has-been. Dentistry has grown until it embraces six distinct branches, each requiring a different kind of skill. No dentist was ever born who possessed equal skill in all the six branches of dentistry or who could keep his skill in any one branch up to the highest mark unless he made a specialty of it.
 The old time dentist confined himself to the simple proposition of pulling and filling teeth and the mixing of artificial teeth. Then crown-work came along, requiring a more artistic eye and touch. Next came bridge-work, demanding a metallurgist's knowledge of gold and a jeweler's skill with the microscope. After that came inlay-work, both porcelain and gold. Then came orthodontia (the science of straightening teeth in the jaw), pressure anesthesia, high-pressure anesthesia, and a new way of treating pyorrhea, alveolitis, or Ricketts disease.
 Forty years ago the barber's and the dentist's chair were identical in construction. One chair was bought for either of both purposes.
The Modern Dentist's Chair Is a Barber's Chair With a College Education
 I write my own advertisements and have had to see and talk to you, face to face. Our new offices in the Stroh Building are the most modern dental offices in Michigan. When you stop to think that this office is located in the best building in this city, and that we have spared nothing to have the best for our patients, and as the saying is that they who make nice birds, we think that we will be able to give you the best dental work at a saving in cost to you. Efficient dental service has never been so possible.

Consultation and Examination Free
 OFFICE HOURS: 8 a. m. to 3 p. m. Holidays, 8 a. m. to 1 p. m. Closed Sundays.
 OUT-OF-TOWN PATIENTS should write for appointment, and have dental work done same day they come.

Ant Development.
 Ants have developed nothing remotely resembling industrial organization. Many unnecessary conclusions have been drawn from comparing neuter (underdeveloped) female ant workers with the unmarred women of modern industry. A comparison with child labor would be truer. For ant workers are always "hungry" form-stunted creatures who have no economic opportunity to grow up—who are forced by family necessity to venture out for food before they reach full growth.

Important Question.
 A little boy of five was traveling south with his parents to visit an aunt whom he had never seen. He was very curious about this relative and asked his father and mother endless questions concerning her. As the journey drew to its close the little fellow was amazed to see many negroes at every station. Suddenly a look of consternation dawned on his face and turning to his mother he cried in a voice of alarm: "Mamma, mamma, what color is Aunt Jeany?"—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Oldest Timber.
 What is described as the oldest timber in the world which has been used by man is found in an ancient temple of Egypt. This timber is used in connection with stone work, which is known to be more than 4,000 years old. This wood—and the only wood employed in the construction of the temple—is in the form of ties which hold the end of one stone to another. The ties appear to be tamarisk, of which the ark was constructed.

Why Short Hours Are Best.
 That men accomplish more in short spells of severe labor broken by longer spells of rest is illustrated by the story of a wager between two officers at the front as to the time necessary to dig two equal lengths of a trench, each with an equal number of men. Major A. C. Farquharson told it to the British house of commons in a debate on hours of labor.
 One officer let his men work as they pleased, but as hard as possible. The other divided his men into three squads, to work in rotation, each squad digging its hardest for five minutes and then resting for ten. The second team won easily.

Valuable Trainload.
 One train left Monte Vista, Colo., recently loaded with hogs and potatoes with a market value of $82,450. It consisted of 18 cars of fat hogs from the Monte Vista sections, six more cars of hogs brought in by the Santa Luis Central, and 19 cars of potatoes. The hogs were worth about $3,000 a carload, and the potatoes $500 a car.
