Tired out and weakened with persistent coughing, elderly people are in no condition to resist disease, and can not easily ward off more serious sickness.

FOLEY'S HONEY-TAR

helps coughs quickly. It brings quick relief from day and night coughs, whether result from cold, laryngitis, bronchial affection or tickling throat.

Mrs. Mary Kirby, an elderly lady of Spokane, Wash., 1510 Princeton Ave., writes: "I was sick in bed with laryngitis, and had a very bad cough. I thought it a good time to try Foley's Honey and Tar, so began taking it. It stopped my coughing in 1 day and I feel better than I have for many years. I am 75 years old, and as long as I live will praise Foley's Honey and Tar."

Buy Your Winter's Coal NOW

Buyers of Coal are delaying their purchase in the same manner as in 1917, forgetful of the awful experience of that winter. This same warning was sent out during that year, but the coal consumers were advised by others not to buy—that the price would go down. The natural result followed; prices advanced instead of declining and coal was difficult to obtain. Economic law will assert itself. Delay in purchasing coal will delay production.

There is an abundance of COAL in the hills of our coal producing states; the supply is unlimited insofar as the coal itself is concerned but coal shortage and car shortage follows labor shortage and inadequate railroad transportation. Wages of labor will not be reduced and freight rates will advance. SO BUY COAL NOW.

QUALITY AND SERVICE

During the year of 1915 the Farmington Lumber & Coal Company was organized for the purpose of merchandising Lumber, Coal and Builders' Supplies with Quality and Service as a business basis.

The members of this company are individually identified with the lumber business, owning and operating large lumber camps, saw-mills and wholesale distributing companies.

With these connections it is obvious that stocks of lumber are available for consumers of this community at right prices and the quality and grades are right here for your inspection. Lumber prices have not advanced with nor in proportion to labor and other commodities. Labor costs today are double what they were in 1915 and the maintenance of the delivery equipment of concerns such as this have advanced in the same proportion.

Our idea of merchandising lumber and coal is to furnish the goods at a price consistent with quality and service offered. Service does not always mean instant delivery of your order but a large and well assorted stock of material from which to secure the numerous things used in the construction of the best homes.

A large stock is carried for the benefit of our customers and when a farmer or contractor or individual buyer comes to our yard we are in a position to furnish anything to build a home to an ironing-board.

It is our aim to boost the building business in Farmington, have all who can, own a home, that they can call their own, which goes to make a better Farmington, and in the end one of the best suburban towns the vicinity.

All that is required to make your business grow, and what helps your business helps ours, is to put together, be a home town booster and if in need of merchandise visit your local merchants before going out of town. He is entitled to your trade provided he can furnish the goods at the right prices.

The same applies to the lumber business—we invite comparison of prices with legitimate retailer. The firm with the goods and the right prices usually gets the business.
