Spokane, Wash, Sept. 12.—A cordial welcome was given the president here, where the authorities, because of the demand for seats were compelled to hold a lottory. The holders of the lucky tickets heard the president, and the remainder of the people of this city of the "lotand Empire" gathered on the sidewalks, streets, window ledges and fire escapes of buildings along the line of march.

The president speat only two hours here, but Spokane made the most of every minute of his stay. The Spokane crowds constituted one of the extremes of this busy day.

In opening his address, Preddent Wilson said there was an "element of extremes of this busy day.

Warns of Red Control.

In his Idaho meeting at Coeur d'Alene the president did not mention at Senatro Bronh by name, but the spoke of those who are against any world league as those who would have the United States desert the world in a great crisis. He did not refer to the L. W. W. activities in the state. He recontred, however, that he was in the midst of a people who are progressive in all senses of the word, and he said:

Gov. D. W. Davis came up from Bolse to meet the president. He presented him to the Coeur d'Alene audi-ence. He said that, for the day, the people would bury all differences and remember they were Americans. He did not refer to the peace treaty. The president likes the far West, its vast distances and its peace.
