PRIMARY CAUSE OF UNREST

Article VIII.

By FRANK COMERFORD.

Not many years ago something happened which changed the relations between employer and members. The happening has had a marked effect upon industrial discontent. Something was lost out of the relation between the owner and the men who workers the workers stopped. With its passing unrest grew with great vigor. It was a marked the property of the property of the workers stopped. With its passing unrest grew with great vigor. ing, determined, resolute discontent. This came to pass in the day that small business entered the twilight. In the day of the small plant, business was owned and run by a man, or a number of men, doing business as a partnership. These men lived in the community in which their men lived. They worked with their men. In the front of the plant was the office of the Boss. He was not the job. He wasn't a hired boss, either—he was the real boss—the owner. The sign under which the business was run bore his name. It identified him with the business. The Boss had his home in mer. It is the first the state of the sign of the first him which the plant was located. It is children was to do to which the business was run bore his name. It identified him with the business. Regulated by Public Opinion.

In the day of small business, the owner of a factory public the public opinion chartest who pald his mea and in the community. Public opinion chastised him for his self-tibures and inbummity. The people said he was a sweater, a slave driver, and held him his contempt. They contrasted his good clothes, the style of his family and his fine mansion, with the rags his working men wore, the bovels in which they lived. He was pointed out, hated, despised. To make profils it is necessary to keep down the cost of production. The principal item ir the cost of production is the labor charge, the wages of the neen. The employee manager set himself to his task. One object, one thought, was always before him-keep down wages. He drilled this idea into his staff, his superintendents, his foremen. The first commondment of Big Business to him was "make dividends or quit."

Eyil in Over-Capitalization.

Evil in Over-Capitalization.

Frequently these large industrial corporations were-greatly overcapitalized. A corporation representing an actual investment of $100,000,000 was organized for $500,000,000, it didnitates a financial rate of $100,000,000 or its capitalization was wind, water, fake—a lie. The law that gave the corporation a right to extra the corporation at right to extra $400,000,000 of overcapitalization as a "meton." The law should have written it down increap. The selling, of this stock was nothing more or less than obtaining money under false precises. When a working man obtained bread under false pretenses he was sent to juil. When honest meeried out against this grand larcony they were called uncertakers, agitators, and charged with provoking unrest, disturbing business. If this did not silence them, paid publicity told the world that the stock was held by widows and orphuns; that the attacks upon it were efforts to rob them. The state, the law, the government, and given doubt and or more allowed to the companion of more and the companion of the companion of more and the state of the companion of the companion of the fast things in such a large scheme. When he complained he was told, "Take things as they are, stop whining; if you don't like your jobs, quit. There are thousands of men, waiting to step into your shoes."

One of the first things the corporation did was to deay to men the right the law gave it—the right to organize. In defance of their attitude the men did organize and forged the strike as a weapon with white to give the companion of the such as a minuter of set for the strike as a weapon with white the give the companion of the privilege of collective bargaining. If was a simple request, a just one; its meaning is clean. The men wanted the right to appoint a committee to represent them and discuss with the men wanted the right to appoint a committee to represent them and disc ness to concede to men a rigat the conferred on it, the right to organize. Capitalistic Duplicity.

When the cost of iliving forced men to ask for an increase in wages they were often met with the answer, "We can't afford it owick longer for the wages they were getting, because they were anable to make both ends mess. The pay leavelope was not large enough. The men pointed to the fact that the answer given by capital was not true. To show their good faith the capitalists told the general public, "We are enough making a per cent on our capital; men who loan money get 5 per cent." They did not tell the people they were receiving 3 per cent on un capital; men who loan money get 5 per cent. They did not tell the people they were receiving 3 per cent on stool,000,000. While the real capital invested was only $100,000,000. The swent of was being used to pit diends earned were distributed to the off-dends earned were distributed to $100,000,000. only $100,000,000. The sweat of men was being used to pay dividends on $400,000,000. If the dividends earned were distributed over the capital neturally invested, $100,000,000, the profits would have been shown in their true light. The reasonableness of the demand of the men would have been shown in their true light. The reasonableness of the demand of the men would have been shown in the classification.
