A Losing Proposition

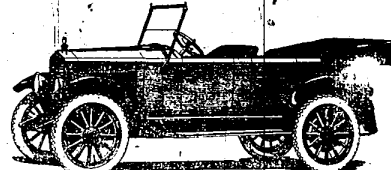

The materials that go into the telephone instruments and switchboards, including steel, platinum, tin and other metals, have increased more than 100 per cent; copper wire 55 per cent; outside wire 45 to 55 per cent, and so on.

Telephone poles that cost us $5.43 in 1915 are now $13.05 each, while lead cable has risen from $1.10 to $1.55 a foot, brick from $7.00 to $22.00 per 1,000, cement from 45c to $1.40 per sack, crossarms from $1c to $1.37 each, clay conduit from 2.9 cents to 7.5 cents per foot and teaming from $4.00 to $12.00 per day.

Staples used and dealt in every day have risen enormously, of course. Corn in 1915 was 75c a bushel and now is $1.60; wheat was $1.25 a bushel and is now selling for $2.35, while beef sold five years ago at $11.42 per 100 lbs. compared with $17.77 today. The retailer of these products has advanced his selling prices to meet increased costs.

The Telephone Company, on the other hand, has been unable to follow this line. Costs have risen rapidly but rates are regulated by law and have not kept pace, so we have come to a point where we cannot meet the bill. Our rates are not sufficient.

MICHIGAN STATE TELEPHONE COMPANY.

The Essex was built to fill a want so strong it amounted to almost a mandate from the motoring public. The same men designed it who designed the Hudson Super-Six, winner of all worth-while stock car speed records. Is it any wonder then that the Essex is everywhere no id for speed? The Essex also combines the ease and endurance of large, costly cars with the economy and convenience of light cars.
