

AAUW sends open invitation to annual meeting

Winners of fellowships and grants from the Farmington branch of the American Association of University Women will be announced Wednesday at the group's annual meeting.

Starting time is 8 p.m. in the Farmington Hills Community Library on Twelve Mile.

Barbara Justice, chairman of the group's fellowship and grant committee, said the scholarships will be given to women doing research or graduate work at Oakland University.

Guests will go to the Farmington Community Center and the Farmington Community Libraries.

A special feature of the meeting will be a slide presentation, "Color on Painting," by artist Leslie Masques. Her specialty is color progressions on glass.

The artist holds a fine arts degree from Indiana University and is now assistant director of Birmingham-Bloomfield Art Association.

Other endeavors include painting instruction, working with training workshops and acting as co-ordinator of the "Picture Lady" program in Farmington schools.

Persons who wish to attend who are without transportation are invited to call Mary Lou White, 553-4735.

Membership is open to all women who hold at least a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution.

Wholistic Health is lecture topic

Dr. Donald Tubesing, author of "Wholistic Health: A Whole Person Approach to Primary Health Care," will be the guest speaker at the next lecture in the Psychological Studies Program annual series, beginning at 9:30 a.m. March 18.

The lecture is sponsored by Psychological Studies and Consultation Program and will be given in Mercy Center, at Eleven Mile and Middlebelt. Reservations may be made by calling Psychological Studies at 695-2660.

The "organization, based at 6788 Telegraph, Birmingham, arranges the lecture series primarily for clergy and those in the helping professions, but it is open to interested church members.

The lecture is billed as being of interest to physicians and other health service professionals.

Psychological Studies provides lectures and seminars in psychology and mental health as related to the educational and counseling tasks within the church.

These programs are underwritten in part by the American Lutheran Church, Episcopal Church, United Methodist Church, United Presbyterian Church, Lutheran Church in America, Lutheran Church Missouri Synod and Reformed Church in America.

DR. TUBESING is the executive vice president and program director of Wholistic Health Centers.

He was appointed associate clinical professor at the University of Illinois Medical Center, Chicago, and is also an ordained clergyman.

He is the author of several monographs on wholistic health care. His latest book, published this month, is entitled "Stress Skills."

An individual ticket for the lecture, including lunch, is $11.

Late bloomers?

Life doesn't stop after age 60. Ruth Gordon received an Oscar nomination at the age of 60, and won an Academy Award for supporting actress in "Rosemary's Baby" at 72. Maggie Kahn organized the Gray Panthers in 1970 at age 64, and four years later, Millicent Fenwick, then 64, was elected to the U.S. House of Representatives. Annie Smith Peck, scholar and lecturer, scaled the Matterhorn at age 45, and followed that at age 62 with climbing the 21,280-foot Mt. Coropuna in Peru. She ventured up Mt. Madison in New Hampshire at age 82.
